Remember the "Bush Contract"?

11/24/91 #1 HATONN

Many of you ask for update on status and can't seem to find it in your media. Take note that Israeli protesters are being encouraged loudly and pressingly to take to the streets to denounce the U.S. in general, and President Bush in particular—so nothing has changed. The word is still out that Bush is anti-Semitic and Israel is still "mad" at the country that provides them with almost all of their annual budget and yet delays $10 billion in guarantees.

As to the contract carrier: the Israeli Cabinet officer, Rehavam Ze'evi, a minister without portfolio, now states that times are even more dangerous for Bush's anti-Semitism is now leading to a "SECOND HOLOCAUST" through his delays of granting the money by "twisting Israel's arm in regard to our right to have the lands of Israel." Ze'evi plans to evict all Arabs from the Occupied Territories and opposes any and all Israeli concessions on land.

Baker in China

Meanwhile Baker has been dealing in China. They say this is the first visit by a high U.S. person since the massacre? What about Eagle-burger and Scowcroft--on two occasions during and after? How quickly we forget as we take a world and destroy it.

Maxwell definitely murdered

11/24/91 #1 HATONN

So many of you are confused about Robert Maxwell and the connection with the Mossad, etc. In fact, most of you don't even know who or what is a Robert Maxwell.

The "murder" of Maxwell is only a tiny chip off the iceberg, dear ones. There will be several magnificent scandals erupting as we move along.

Maxwell was not JUST a jet-set celebrity. As a deep-cover asset of the Mossad, he used his position as owner of major British and U.S. news organizations to set up the terrorist kidnapping of Mordechai Vanunu (whom we wrote about last year), an Israeli nuclear whistle-blower.

Of course Maxwell denied the accusations. In the middle of a tremendous brew-ha-ha and financial crisis he, went "alone" to his princely yacht and, as the ONLY passenger, simply died of some ailment and flipped overboard. On the night of Nov. 5, 1991, Maxwell vanished from his ship and, the next morning, his nude body was found by Spanish fishermen, floating in the Atlantic surf--quite dead indeed.

Who was this person? He was interesting to say the least but, far from being solidly structured, the media empire controlled by Maxwell foundered in a deep sea of debt--some $3.8 BILLION worth of bank loans and promissory notes. But how did he end up an Israeli "informer"?

Following WW H, Maxwell was just another European exile, with deeper ethnic and emotional ties to Israel than to the London business world, in which he soon became a rising star. Who set him up in business? Who launched him on his road to power? These are the interesting questions.

Maxwell was launched into bigtime publishing by hidden sponsors loyal to Israel and he came to the end of his road--to this sudden and most mysterious demise--when he found his relationship with the Mossad much too burdensome and attempted to break loose from Israel's secret service. This is a REAL no-no. Breaking away from the Mafia is child's play compared to insulting the Mossad.

Maxwell was an Israeli partisan from the onset. He, whose real name is "Hoch", was born in a small village in Czecho-Slovakia. He served with British forces in WW II during the occupation of Germany. He reportedly gained favor with his officers by looting German houses and bestowing his loot upon his superiors. He was decorated by the British for "bravery", but the act for which he was commended was to gun down an unarmed mayor of a German town who was trying to arrange a surrender.

At the end of the war, the Irgun Zvi Leumi--to which Maxwell was attached and which was to later become the Mossad after the founding of Israel--followed Allied combat troops into Germany, seizing German scientific research into physics, chemistry, aeronautics, astronomy and other technical areas. They also scooped up German research into more arcane areas such as archeology, history, anthropology and other inquiries into human origins, especially those related to race and ethnicity.

The former information was converted into cash, the latter was buried, never to be seen again.

A "FIRST" FOR ISRAEL

Israel, you might find interesting, is the first nation in history to have an intelligence service before it had an actual country! Its military and intelligence units were active worldwide years prior to the founding of Israel as part of the international Zionist movement.

Hoch, later Maxwell, founded Oxford Pergamon Press, which translated and published the stolen German scientific data. This was the basis of Maxwell's fortune and the beginning of his publishing empire.

Similar questions have been raised privately about other controversial media moguls, among them Rupert Murdoch, one of Maxwell's principal rivals who actually initiated Maxwell's career with Israeli interests. You see, the important thing to note in this pre-establishment of the Mossad is, "Where did it come from?" RIGHT DIRECTLY OUT OF SOVIET ZIONIST/COMMUNIST PERSONNEL.

Just prior to his death, Maxwell made a most startling move that signaled a rebuff to Israeli intelligence: he fired foreign editor Nicholas Davies, a senior associate, after evidence emerged linking this veteran British journalist to covert Mossad arms deals. Maxwell was a typically brash and arrogant man who got more and more difficult to "handle" by his Mossad "masters" and this action typified his coming intent to blow the covers off a lot of "stuff".

Maxwell's death is just another episode demonstrating Israel's willingness to take whatever outrageous actions it chooses, from murder and destruction, singly or genocidally, when it feels challenged.

I assure you, chelas, this little scandal has only just begun!

Zionist Helpmates

11/24/91 #1 HATONN

It is indeed clear that the International Bankers and their Zionists controllers and helpmates in the world shadow government work in secrecy, confident that their handmaidens in the Establishment media will never expose their machinations to the light of day. Do you begin to see how really EASY it is to fool all you almost all the time?

They work diligently to topple governments, raise your taxes, erode national sovereignty and enslave entire populations—long ago taking your own individual sovereignty.

These murdering criminals wear beautifully expensive three-piece suits and remain not just "respectable" but even prestigious--members of society. This is because their crimes remain unexposed.

This little "heist" is a pretty good caper, however, even for these experienced caper-coordinators. To pull off the theft of hundreds of tons of gold held by a government takes some "doing"--but you will find it is running smoothly with all the help from your Elite and your own Congress in support. The job has been pulled off in total collusion with the equally corrupt former communists who still are (with only a name-change to protect the guilty) party bosses and participants.

You ones must understand this secret killer: Soviet-style communism was never possible without cooperation and help from Western bankers. Now that they claim "failed communism" the show gets serious under another label without change of any characters or operations. The international "siphon" is working perfectly as the assets flow right into the Elite Bankers' Banks. Dear ones, your world is in foreclosure as the "markers" are being called and you can't "legally" do a thing about it.

Remember the U.S.S. Liberty?

This could be the "Watch and get Confirmation" department. Remember the U.S.S. Liberty? This was the nice U.S. ship targeted by the Israelis.

Well, you now have proof positive, so back off the slings and arrows aimed at us for our "insane ravings" and "mad-man projections". The U.S. Embassy in Beirut, Lebanon intercepted Israeli Defense Force transmission on June 8, 1967, positively identifying a ship off the Egyptian coast as the USS Liberty, just before the Israeli attack on the ship resulting in 34 American sailors dead and 171 wounded. The U.S. ambassador to Lebanon, Dwight Porter, revealed after 24 years of silence that the Israelis KNEW the ship was American, despite their claims later that it was a 'tragic accident', and that the American government knew the Israeli denial was a lie. The attack orders from the IDF were also confirmed by two eyewitness sources in the Israeli war room at the time. The revelations have been long ago outlined in detail in documented statements, not the least of which was in one of the early JOURNALS.

This entire event was staged to prevent the United States and world from intercepting Israeli military messages indicating a planned invasion of Syria on June 8, 1967. Yes this IS the same Israel that you go hungry so that you might support it without appearing to be "anti-Semitic". The ship (and men) were strafed with Israeli machine-gunfire, napalmed and torpedoed, but the crew managed to keep the ship afloat and limp back to a port.

The U.S. government hushed it up and the crew was ordered under penalty of execution to never reveal the truth.

POW/MIA debacle

11/24/91 #1 HATONN

TESTIMONY: TED SAMPLEY

Do you realize that the White House, during the administration of President Ronald Reagan, conducted an illegal domestic spy operation directed at critics of its policy regarding unaccounted for POW's and MIA's of the Vietnam War? Well, listen to Gritz and you will get first-hand evidence. Not only did the Administration cover-up the fact that there were POW's but they attempted to get rid of all investigators and anyone making an effort to bring the sham to public attention.

Dharma, this is important enough to rewrite on the subject. Let us give you information from recent happenings. I shall simply keep resource silent at this point for there is reference to Col. Gritz and others who come DIRECTLY under my security. To cover all of you, just quote the document without reference at this time. Acknowledgements can come later when security is better stabilized.

QUOTE:

The White House during the administration of President Ronald Reagan conducted an illegal domestic spy operation directed at critics of its policy regarding unaccounted-for POW's and MIA's of the Vietnam War, a highly decorated North Carolina Vietnam veteran has charged.

Only last week, Ted Sampley of Kingston, North Carolina, testified before the new Senate Select Committee on POW-MIA Affairs about the domestic spying and harassment operation, in which he had played a role during 1983.

He was invited to testify November 7 before the Senate committee by Sen. Bob Smith (R-N.H.), who is vice chairman of the select panel.

Sampley, who received four Bronze Stars and the Republic of Vietnam Cross of Gallantry during two tours of duty with the U.S. Army Special Forces in Vietnam, is currently chairman of the Homecoming II Project, a national POW-MIA activist group, and editor and publisher of the Kingston-based U.S. Veteran News and Report newspaper.

In his prepared statement, Sampley revealed he had "good reason to believe that this activity (spying and harassment) was being orchestrated from the President's National Security Council, - which...has no authority to engage in such activities, particularly domestic spying."

SPECIAL PROSECUTOR

"I am therefore urging," Sampley stated, "a special prosecutor be appointed to investigate this situation.

"I had an opportunity to learn firsthand the U.S. government methods of spying upon and dealing with Vietnam veteran activists concerned about the POW/MIA issue when I was approached in March of 1983 by Charles (Chuck) Allen, a retired Special Forces lieutenant colonel.

"I was hired by a Lt. Col. Allen of Fayetteville, North Carolina, who at that time was head of operations for a specially organized group called the Center for POW/MIA Accountability, to infiltrate a Vietnam veterans group called the Veterans Vigil Society. The Veterans Vigil Society was operating a 24-hour POW-MIA 'color guard' vigil near the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington.

Members of the vigil had sworn to remain at the memorial 'until all of the Vietnam MIA/POWs are accounted for'.

"As a matter of fact, an offshoot of that group, true to its word, is still maintaining vigil there.

"My assignment was to determine how much money the vigil was taking in, where and how it was being spent, the names of its members, if they were 'doing drugs', and if they had any connection to Lt. Col. James 'Bo' Gritz and a man identified as Mike Babcock."

At the time Col. Gritz, also a highly decorated Vietnam War Special Forces veteran, was involved in searching for and attempting to rescue POW's and MIA's in Laos, which neighbors Vietnam.

"Allen told me it was believed members of the Veterans Vigil Society were helping to prepare a POW rescue mission into Laos," Sampley explained in his statement. "He said the U.S. government disapproved of ' private forays' and if I could identify the people who were planning such a mission, their passports would be seized by the government.

"He took a small address book from his pocket and pointed to a list of names he said included FBI agents and National Park Police investigators that were also gathering information on the veterans. I wondered, in addition to being impressed, how a supposed civilian would have that kind of information."

PAID 500 DOLLARS

"To infiltrate the Vigil for a week, which I did in April of 1983, I was promised $500 in expenses, which was paid, and $500 for the investigation, which was never paid--I think because my investigation turned up nothing of significance about the vet group. Allen told me the remainder of the money was to be paid through former Special Forces Lt. Col. Robert K. Brown, a member of the center board of directors and publisher of Soldier of Fortune magazine.

"I later learned Brown had provided the center $5,000 ' start-up' money and continued to be a major benefactor for the center.

"During either the first or second week of April of that year I returned to Fayetteville and submitted to Allen a written report detailing what I had found about the Vigil. I was in Allen's office when he picked up the phone and called a man he referred to with familiarity as ' Dick' Childress and gave him a report of the information I had gathered.

"According to Allen, and documents he provided me, the center was an organization which was incorporated with a non-profit status and was based in Washington. At that time, retired Maj. Gen. John K. Singlaub, a close associate of Brown, was head of the center, and its membership consisted mostly of retired senior military officers.

"Allen told me ' the center interacts with and maintains a working relationship with government agencies responsible for POW/MIA affairs,'" Sampley continued in his sworn statement. "Allen went on to say the center had a close working relationship with the White House, naming Dick Childress as their principal contact, who I later learned was then-Lt. Col. Richard Childress, the Director of Asian Affairs for President Reagan's National Security Council.

"I was also present at subsequent dates when Allen made several other calls and reports by phone to Childress."

STOLEN PHOTOGRAPHS

"On one visit to Allen's office in Fayetteville, I was shown by Allen a pile of several hundred color slides taken by Gritz's team inside Laos. The slides, according to Allen, had been obtained without Gritz's knowledge by bribing a disenchanting team member who had stolen the film from Gritz before it had been developed. It is my understanding copies of these stolen slides had been or were subsequently provided to Childress.

"I learned later Soldier of Fortune magazine was engaged, at the same time I was working for the center, on a special edition trashing POW/MIA activists Gritz, Scott Barnes and others. I believe it is interesting to note that the same people, including Singlaub and Allen, served on both the staff of the center and are listed as contributing editors and/or advisers to Soldier of Fortune magazine.

"In fact, Center for Accountability officers Allen, Singlaub, retired Brig. Gen. Heine Aderholt, James P. Monaghan and Milt Copulos were cited for their assistance in trashing Gritz and the others in the magazine's special edition."

ARMED GUERRILLAS

"It is also worth noting that while Childress and others at the White House were denouncing activist(s) like Gritz for their efforts in Southeast Asia, Lt. Col. Brown and his soldiers of fortune were making military excursions across the Thai border into Laos, helping to finance and arm Laotian anticommunist fighters and even established a 'forward operational base' on Laotian territory--all in violation of the U.S. Neutrality Act.

"Not one word was ever uttered by Childress or any member of the Reagan White House about this, even after Brown detailed the operation in an edition of his magazine.

"Apparently, illegal acts by Brown and his associates to arm anti-communist guerrillas were acceptable to the White House, but the efforts of private citizens to locate and rescue American prisoners of war were not. Why?

"The entire Childress/Center for Accountability effort from beginning to end was designed to discredit some of the most vocal critics of the U.S. government POW/MIA policy," Sampley charged in his statement.

"From then to now, this pattern has continued. Rather than focus all available resources on resolving the problem of our missing Vietnam veterans, much of the effort has been directed toward destroying the credibility and/or reputation of the critics."

CLOSER LOOK

"As a result of my experience with Allen, the Center for Accountability, and the Veterans Vigil Society, I became convinced there was something about the live POW issue that required a closer look," Sampley explained to the Senators. "I became a member and later an officer in the Washington-based National Vietnam Veterans Coalition.

"In August of 1984, I went to the Republican National Convention in Dallas, where a veterans parade had been organized by the national Vietnam Veterans Coalition. The purpose of the Dallas event was an attempt to get a meeting with Reagan so that the coalition's evidence of live POWs in captivity could be handed directly to the President.

"The parade, which had been organized well in advance, began coming apart at the seams when, as we later learned, Lt. Col. Childress made a series of telephone calls to scheduled participants telling them we were nothing more than motorcycle gangs and rabble rousers and that there was a great potential for a riot."

COMPLAINT FILED

"During the summer of 1985," Sampley told the senators, "I filed a complaint about Childress's interference with private groups. The complaint was filed with North Carolina Congressman Walter B. Jones (D), who later told me my complaint had been sent over to the FBI.

"I have never received a response. In September, 1984, John Mead, an international businessman and former CIA associate, filed a lengthy complaint with the Justice Department accusing Childress and the center of participating in an illegal relationship. Specifically Childress was accused of using the center as his private investigative force, abusing classified information, threatening blackmail and carrying out character assassinations in connection with classified POW documents.

"Mead filed his complaint with the criminal division of the Justice Department and Fred Fielding, legal counsel to President Reagan, and others with no success and no response to the allegations."

REWARD OFFERED

"In the fall of 1988," Sampley stated in his written testimony, "the National Steering Committee for American War Veterans, a Vietnam veterans activist group of which I am chairman, launched a campaign in Southeast Asia designed to advertise the existence of a $2.4 million reward, put up by U.S. congressmen, in hopes of persuading officials from Vietnam, Cambodia, and Laos to defect with at least one American POW.

"The plan was simple. We had generated approximately $5,000 in funds which we had converted to small bills, U.S. and foreign, and then stamped with the reward message. Each stamped bill, along with a reward flier, was placed in a Ziplock bag and made waterproof so it would float.

"In early October, team members Jim Copp, a Vietnam veteran and elementary school teacher, and Donna Long, a freelance journalist and POW activist, entered Thailand and rented small boats for the purpose of placing the waterproof messages in the Mekong River, which is the border between Laos and Thailand.

"The idea was to get the messages as close to the Laotian side of the Mekong as possible, so they would float to the Laotian side and be picked up by the Laotian government officials' attention to the reward offer, which we did."

TWO CAPTURED

"Jim and Donna, who were two days ahead of the other four members of the team, including myself, seized the opportunity and actually entered Laos and began handing out the reward message money to the Laotian people. Unfortunately, in one of the villages which the pair entered, they crossed paths with a Laotian government official who placed them under arrest.

"Jim and Donna were blindfolded, guns were placed at their heads, and their lives were threatened. They were tortured by being kept in solitary confinement and refused sufficient food to live. They were at one time physically assaulted, and there was at least one attempted sexual assault on Donna during their captivity. Jim lost almost 30 pounds in the 41 days they were held and was seriously ill when finally released.

"Senators, included in Exhibit 'F' (Sampley accompanied his statement with dozens of documents) are classified U.S. government cables which define the negotiations between Childress and Laotian government officials concerning the captive pair. The tone of the cables was clearly more a concern on how to use the incident to embarrass the members of Congress who were sponsoring the reward offer than getting Long and Copp released.

"Upon the eventual release of Long and Copp, no effort was made by any U.S. government official to debrief either of the captives. Instead, a State Department official told the U.S. media there was no point in debriefing either captive and praised the Laotian government for its treatment of them. Long had to demand through her congressman (Rep. Martin Lancaster (D-N.C.) that the U.S. debrief her, because during her captivity her captors discussed the POW/MIA issue with her and she had at one point seen and waved to a man she perceived to be a Black American.

"In fact, a guard told her the man's name was 'Austin'.

"A Homecoming II Project team was later illegally arrested and fined by Thai police, who admitted U.S. officials had asked them to harass/detain American citizens working on the POW/MIA issue," Sampley said.

As we bring this segment to a close I can only ask that all give thought and prayer unto these matters for each passing day brings you ever so much closer to the inevitable clash. May you each be given into insight so that you may see beyond the veil of lies and into TRUTH.

Strange objects

To the newspaper crew: Please, even though you will discern correctly that this material must go out promptly (year before last) I must now caution you. With the publication of such large papers, you are going to bankrupt the paper--so, we must consider alternatives. Further, I must have Dharma elsewhere for a few days and there will be a skip in the daily copy of information. She will continue to write but the publisher will not have daily access as usual. I realize there is enough stacked-up information for weeks of publication but I also desire that current A.N. Other and Dr. Coleman have available space for brothers need the actual Earth-mouth input. I verify that the information is valid and these people are now trained to spot the weakness in any "insider" information.

We have found it necessary to bombard the public with information--beyond quarrel of fact--so that you of the public can begin to sort fact from the assault against your intelligence. The fullness of this unfolding will take into infinity, I suppose, but you MUST begin to get your input into order or you are going to be a "lost planet".

Your own planetary liars are planning a spectacular terror display on December 5th from unidentified space "stuff". You are getting the blast to ready you for it. "There is a 'thing' heading at thousands of miles per hour--at Earth". "It is 1 to 11 yards across" (3 to 33 feet--the size of a mid-sized motor home) "...which will come within 290,000 miles from Earth...." "It is now about a million and a half miles from Earth." Please attend this!! You are being told that they have seen this "object" through a typical 36 inch telescope. Now I ask you to think just a minute about what I have just said—for it is directly from the news releases as given in all media and all papers. How many of YOU REALLY believe you can clearly see and track a thing 3 feet wide at a million and a half miles distant? Remember that satellites are only some miles from your surface and high orbits are only 300 to 500 miles distant. I can guarantee you that IF it is being tracked—there is full microwave interchange for there is no other manner in which to track so specifically any course and "what if the speed changes?" Note they give you an expected "time of arrival", in addition. Note, moreover, that you are being bombarded with new interest in UFO's, Nuclear War stories and preparations for the introduction of hostile aliens. You have no hostile aliens within those distances but you have some very hostile murderers on your surface.

Are there UFO's in your atmosphere? Of course! Anything that is not identified is a UFO—from your own hover-craft to a balloon in the wind.

Any vehicle bearing anyone of human form or "strange life" is not a UFO either--for we have it ALL thoroughly identified. We are efforting to disclose the sources of your "unidentified" bullies but much like with politics--most of you "inquiring minds" do not REALLY want to know.

New ways to be on lists

11/23/91 #1 HATONN

While the distractors have your heads in the outer limits--the prison masters are working diligently under your noses. You are going to get hit with more "gun control" wherein you won't "notice" and the full intent is to shatter your Second Amendment Rights while you "sleep". Your enemy has very subtle ways to find who you are and where you are--who might have and harbor guns--say, rifles, etc. I'll tell you a little about that and you can see how easy it is for even a half-interested party to locate specific groups.

Let us say you are in the rifle ammunition business and you wish to target a group of rifle owners--but you have no list and all gun-owner lists are "private". (They are NOT, so understand I use this hypothetically.) How would YOU go about finding owners of rifles and so-called "hunting" guns? Of course, you would go to the DMV and get a listing of all who own those good old pickups--especially four-wheel drive toys. The good-old boy who goes deer hunting, duck hunting, etc.--for these are the typical hunting rifle owners--but the tracking and sorting was through the DMV. I can express, herein, that all varying "groups" are pin-pointed in this manner through some listing or another. For instance, there are massive mailing lists made from just one call in to an 800 number to order a "stitch-o-matic" or a Country Western album.

Note that the thieves and criminals have unregistered guns and assault rifles. There is a full-charge army who will be sent in to take care of that bunch--count on it.

Who's in charge during war?

You had better give some thought to this in relationship to selves. How many of you realize that in cities such as Los Angeles--The police have been told that in the event of a nuclear strike in the world, they are to act immediately: "GO IMMEDIATELY HOME, GET YOUR FAMILY AND EVACUATE--THE MILITARY WILL TAKE OVER ALL POLICING ACTIONS." That means exactly what it says--if, say, Israel bombs (nuclear) Iraq and/or Podunk, Turkey--you will, in the major cities, come instantly under total military control! Further, many of the smaller townships have full-time orders to keep weapons at ready and be prepared to "back-up military control". This military action is set to take over policing even if it is only through "Emergency Regulations, U.S.A." This will be enacted under the explanation of preventing any violence as the Government takes over banks and searches and seizes your personal property. So be it. YOU go check it out! However, don't expect to get a detailed description as I just gave you for YOU ARE NOT SUPPOSED TO KNOW!

You may as well recognize that the Government has an average of somewhere in the approximation of 25 full-blown computer files on EVERY person! Further, you are pinpointed to any spot on the globe if you travel or deal in any kind of import/export business, and especially in financing. You can't simply write a letter of resignation for if you do--you enter a whole other set of investigative apparatus to see "WHY". You are far better off to effort to handle your affairs as long as possible through legal means within the system--i.e., Nevada Corporations, collateral asset notes, etc. If you do not break the laws "they" have made for themselves, it becomes easier to operate within the limits of security. Remember that ALL THINGS ARE "LEGAL" IF YOU HOLD THE BIGGER GUN.

The keys to privacy

What most of you desire to do is have total privacy without giving up any of the assets of public display. So, take into REASON that which serves you best, stay very small in the public eyes (through Nevada small corporations, for instance) as long and as reasonably as possible. We have written at length about privacy in PRIVACY IN THE FISHBOWL, available for the cost of printing. I can herein give you a bit of update to attend and check out any changes as the shroud comes down. YOU have to decide that which is valuable to you--BECAUSE THE ELITE KINGS PLAN TO HAVE ALL ASSETS ON AND IN THE PLANET AND YOU ENSLAVED--NO LATER THAN IN FUNCTIONING ORDER BY YEAR 2000. YOU ARE WELL ON YOUR WAY!

Privacy is already about the most endangered item on your listings of control. You can check out what is in some of your files, but you will never find out what is in the big file in the government sky. But, how do you function today?

First, you can call your local credit bureau. You may even find a national toll-free number to use. It might even cost you to get your file. It probably is worth it for you CAN request that information in error be removed. You would have to follow through on this point regularly. If you plan to get a loan of any kind, this is important. I, of course, suggest you stop getting loans. I'll see if Dharma can find the Big Three credit reporting firms names and addresses a bit later. (See end of today's writing.)

CASH ONLY

Remember, we are only speaking of "privacy" and I do not advocate anything--I simply am giving you information. You cannot really buy privacy today without becoming a cash-only hermit. Some find that plausible--most must continue to function in an already corrupted world.

The price is usually beyond that which you are willing to pay so I can only suggest as confronted with the quandary that you run through a list of self-questions.

- * What data do I really NOT want in my records?
- * What data DO I want in those records?
- * If my enemy can dial up my records--can I be hurt?
- * What can I do to make myself less visible?
- * If I can be accessed cheaply, what about someone's files who tries to use this information against me?

You can only begin to control this monster by being selective about what information you desire placing in the electronic files. With some of you it may well be "bankruptcy" for as long as you have no resources showing after total bankruptcy you begin with a clean file. Ah, but "...I won't get loans," you cry. Good! I suggest you not apply for loans. But if you need to for business reasons--make sure it is through a Nevada Corporation that you make application--and NOT in your name. Owners of Nevada Corporations are NEVER revealed legally by the State--for they do not even have to know. There is no reciprocity with the IRS in the Federal "market" and ONE

(1) (UNO) CAN SET-UP AND BE THE OFFICERS AND BE THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS. YOU CAN EVEN BE MORE PRIVATE BY ASKING A FRIEND TO BE THE OFFICERS AND YOU CAN KEEP YOUR NAME COMPLETELY OFF THE RECORDS. IN NEVADA YOU CAN ARRANGE TO DO BUSINESS ELSEWHERE AND YOU DO NOT "HAVE TO" EVER ISSUE STOCK. IS THIS NOT FASCINATING? YOU ARE GOING TO LEARN TO USE THE LOOP-HOLES WRITTEN-IN BY THE ELITE FOR THEMSELVES OR YOU CAN PLAN ON LOSING EVERYTHING TO THE "SYSTEM".

Even if you cannot evade the searchers, you can make the fruits of their labors less productive. This means that you probably should find out what is in your credit file now to see what it says about you.

Ones on your place in the "privacy" business tout the following: get a foreign bank account and a foreign credit card. They say to charge more things to that account, etc. Well, yes, you can do that and for a while it will work nicely--but I promise you that if you go that route--you will at some time come under the "glass" for possible foreign bank accounts. I have to tell you that your S.D.I. put satellites into orbit which track the entire population as to banking. Yes, for a while you might be able to use a foreign bank--BUT, AS DADDY CLAMPS DOWN AND CHANGES THE CURRENCY, ETC., ETC., YOU WILL BE DEAD IN THE WATER--THEY SIMPLY WILL DISALLOW FOREIGN BANKING AND CONFISCATE ALL INTERNATIONAL ASSETS--REMEMBER, YOU ARE HEADED FOR A ONE WORLD GOVERNMENT, BANKING SYSTEM AND TOTAL MILITARY CONTROL. It will be far easier to stop all international flow than in your own home town.

A lot of times, citizens, newly touted privacy methods are given out to you and even the publisher THINKS them to be effective--only to find that the Government has literally set them up to suck you into telling them EXACTLY that information they are seeking.

So how do you consider getting out of the system? You don't! But you can do some things which will keep the profile pretty low, such as showing your income in the lowest possible range on questionnaires to achieve what you want.

The important matter at hand, for you-the-people, is to START. The place, of course, to start is to STOP charging, etc. That is too late an action for most of you who believed the lies and you can't "just stop". However, if you pretend you have NO income, YOU WILL BE A WAY OUT FRONT! Moreover, most of you will not have to PRETEND for very long with the unemployment and depression closing in like the shroud of death about your nation. You DO, however, have to start--somewhere. You must stepwise RETHINK the way you do business, and the way others tell you how to do business. You "old readers" know that you have been told to STOP that paper-trail. How many of you did so, or, are in the midst of doing so? Well, a trail of computer entries is even worse.

You must, further, realize that these new rules being used to outlaw the Second Amendment are your worst enemy. Until you can understand, for instance, that guns do not kill people--people kill people--you will be the VICTIM. This cry for safety through gun control is as silly as having ones die by violent overdoses of aspirin. Should you outlaw all aspirin and headache relievers because a few feed three bottles of 250 to a child and kill the child? You can die from overindulgence in food. You can jump off a bed onto a cement floor and commit suicide--do you outlaw beds and floors? What you are headed for is having ONLY CRIMINALS AND ENFORCERS OF UNLAWFUL REGULATIONS IN CONTROL OF WEAPONS. THE FULL INTENT IS TO RENDER YOU-THE-PEOPLE HELPLESS TO COUNTER THE REGULATIONS COMING DOWN ON YOU AND/OR STOP THE CONFISCATORS WHO WILL COME WITHOUT WARRANT AND SEARCH YOUR PROPERTY, TAKE WHAT THEY LIKE (INCLUDING YOU) AND YOU CAN DO NOTHING! The laws are in place, the Executive Order already signed for Emergency Regulations. Do you hear me? The laws are already signed and in place! When the Constitution is outlawed (which is next on the agenda) you are through! So be it.

CONSTITUTIONAL ATTENTION

Some of you still don't even realize you have a lawful Constitution to be violated. There are the great celebrations of the Bill of Rights--which you hardly recognize in this day and age. The attempt is to make the law so outrageous in the name of freedom that you will change the laws to bring the offenders back into line--that was the intent in the first place. The Mapletorpe exhibit of pornography was not intended as art--it was intended to cause you-the-people to forfeit your First Amendment Rights and Freedoms. Morality cannot be legislated and if each "Right" is so abused by the few as to cause the many to give up their own to control those few--then you have played directly into the hands of this new drummer.

SECOND AMENDMENT

Perhaps it is valuable herein to discuss the Second Amendment a bit as most of you are just now beginning to awaken and don't know of what we speak.

California is having a massive program underway to influence this violation of Rights. I suggest that you follow the lead and adjust your paperwork to suit your "State" and get your "rights" under your control. If there is room in this paper, you can print information as available for California, or you who are interested in "doing something" contact Bernadine Smith, Hanford, CA., Second Amendment Committee, P.O. Box 1776, Zip: 93232.

Second Amendment: A well-regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms, SHALL NOT BE INFRINGED.

The Second Amendment is a depository of supreme protection within the Bill of Rights, which contains a command to safeguard the people's firearms rights, which were affirmed, documented, and instituted by the Founding Fathers, a palladium which is perpetual and cannot be repealed, and over which there is NO superseding power of law to permit infringement of any sort or kind.

The Second Amendment has for its purpose: (1) to state and confirm the natural, absolute, and inherent right in the common law for the people to keep and bear arms, a multi-faceted right which is an endowment from the Creator, applying to the people collectively, as well as, to the people individually, (2) to shelter, guard, barricade and restraint* against any and all governmental infringements, mostly the federal government; (3) to maintain "the security of a free State", making possible the promotion of "an armed free people... to render them independent of others for essential, particularly military supplies", guaranteeing the readiness of "armed FREE people" when "calling them forth to execute the laws 'of the Union, to suppress insurrections, and repel invasions" (these quotes are by President George Washington); (4) to withdraw the people's right to keep and bear arms from the vicissitudes of political controversy and to place the right beyond the reach of majorities and officials, and to establish it as a legal principle to be applied by the courts, and (5) to insure that the people will always be the "ultimate power" in the republic of the United States and to maintain firearms as the people's best form of resistance against despotism and tyranny in government.

THIS IS IMPORTANT (FOOTNOTES)

* A restraint is dependent upon the existence of an object which is in need of protection. At the time that the ("...shall not be infringed.") restraint in the Second Amendment was drafted, the "...right of the people to keep and bear arms..." was (and still is) the object for which that restraint was applied (to protect the right). Clearly, the Second Amendment does state your firearms rights! "A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state..." was (and still is) one of the major reasons why firearms rights needed special protection which resulted in a demand for a Bill of Rights. Individual rights were (and still are) important, but collective power of the people, collective capacity of the people, and collective rights of the people were realized as being crucial in importance. This is how the Second Amendment was constructed: so as to first emphasize and insure the right to collective action of the people. President George Washington put forth great efforts in his two-term presidency to formulate and develop the general population (composed of the body of the people) into being a well-regulated (meaning efficiently operating) collective capacity militia of the people at large. It must be understood that the Founding Fathers intended these actions to give support to their Constitutional system which is based upon the people themselves being the ultimate power, however, you have failed to be "well regulated". As example I believe that you can see that you-the-people actually have the RIGHT to gather a well-regulated force and go forth and militarily take back your government. Is this possible?

No, not unless you keep your ability to do so for the Government has some very large guns to use against you. This is why they would rather have you disarmed and helpless.

The Hanford Initiative re-establishes the meanings, reasonings, and the work of the Founding Fathers in regard to firearms. State Senator Donald Rogers from Bakersfield is a co-proponent of the Hanford initiative petition drive.

 Refer to Federal Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson--West Virginia State Board of Education v. Barnette (1943)

 "The strongest reason for the people to retain the right to keep and bear arms is, as a last resort, to protect themselves against tyranny in government." ...Thomas Jefferson--3rd U.S. President.

YOU ARE THERE NOW, AMERICA!

Fight using God's Laws

11/23/91 #1 HATONN

To "fight", as in war, when you can make more headway within their own system is indeed foolish. Part of the intent is to nail all of you real fighters. These are the ones who join groups who blow up installations and burn and literally break the laws--of God and Man. You are sucked into these "movements" by trained professionals to do exactly that--cause chaos, confusion and give excuse for persecution as exemplifying. You must take action but you must do it quietly and lawfully. You cannot expect God to protect and sanction your actions which are against His own laws! I suggest you stop praying for "your way" for--as in war--neither side is sanctioned by God unless they are truly the brunt of overtakers. If the original group is already in outlaw definition--NEITHER side can "count on God to SAVE them". You will "save" selves or you will perish. The point is--that unless you move in "righteous" intent toward Natural law and according to God's laws--you aren't going to get into the security crafts to get into safety with the higher brotherhood. Always God leaves that choice to each individual. Remember, first of all, you are already locked into our computer system directly to God attachment and it doesn't work to try and "fool Mother Nature"! You may look like a bean but if you are a tomato--you don't fool God.

Very high stakes

Dear ones of Truth, you will accomplish nothing if you don't get with it and stick with it. You must embark on a campaign in which you refuse to be defeated, and it has to be a campaign that grows bigger and stronger hour by hour, day by day. Numbers count, EVERY SINGLE ONE OF YOU COUNTS! This is NOT something you can leave to your neighbor or relative and it is certainly NOT SOMETHING THE GOVERNMENT WILL DO FOR YOU! The stakes are now nothing LESS than FREEDOM and SURVIVAL!

I am not here to raise false hopes, brothers. You have waited far too long for there to be any guarantee of success; but if you fail to act NOW, you are guaranteed failure for we first warned you to take action over a decade ago as a last resort. I would assume that knowing that there IS action which you can take, you will not avoid making a decision about what to do about it.

If you fail to take action--then you have made your choice and you will be forever stuck with the horror of that choice. The fact is that if you herein decide to take no action--you HAVE made that choice.

If you do not act, you are voting for economic disaster and for total Satanic Bolshevik (Soviet/Khazarian) DICTATORSHIP. This is also recognition that you WILL have a Nuclear War because those are the things which are almost upon you as we write this day. You-the-People MUST DO YOUR CONSTITUTIONAL DUTY TO STOP IT... The time has come, chelas and citizens, for all of you to do your duty and do that which is right simply because it is RIGHT.

You are NOT destined for any kind of PEACE in your world. You must now come into realization that that is a delusion--an illusion planted by your adversary. The turmoil is now getting under-way in full intent. Every nation is targeted by the planners. Every day you hear about this or that nation being specifically considered for specific action unless THEY MEET THE DEMANDS OF THE PLANNERS! This goes all the way down to the farmers and all individual citizens--just try to break a rule or regulation set forth by the bureaus!!!

But there is action going on all across your beloved nation, America. Ones such as the above listed leaders are doing all they can to lead the way to restoration of your sovereignty--you must have sovereign nation status in order to have a "militia", for instance, with which to defend that sovereign nation. You come from a long way behind in the race, dear ones--but you can do it if you want to. Get your direction straight with God and His Hosts and you shall have that which you need to reclaim this blessed nation--continue in the path you travel and you shall perish--no more and no less and the choice is yours!

Examples of scams, scandals and direct abuse are all about you--you can pick up any paper--any day, and find crime and "legal" rip-offs organized by the very Government you endorse along with the Mafia, CIA, Mossad, (classic criminal operations) all about you--wherein it is YOU-THE-PEOPLE who are the targets. Let us just look at ONE such item from your own Washington Times within these past few weeks.

QUOTE:

Mob bilks billions with insurance, tax scams [I shall emphasize some pertinent points.]:

LOS ANGELES:--Law enforcement officials here point to the largest health insurance billing fraud in U.S. history and growing gasoline excise tax fraud nationwide as the kind of billion-dollar businesses enjoyed by members of the "Soviet" mob.

The $1 billion health insurance scheme was of such magnitude, according to federal authorities, that it prompted an increase in health insurance premiums for all California consumers to make up for the millions of dollars allegedly paid out in fraudulent claims.

"It was an absolutely classic criminal operation," said one law enforcement official here who requested anonymity. "It rivaled in imagination and gall anything La Cosa Nostra could ever have done."

The ring allegedly laundered money obtained by phony insurance claims through foreign banks, created more than 500 shell companies and used mail drops similar to those employed by traditional organized crime syndicates.

Fronting as a medical clinic, the operation solicited new patients by promising free checkups, ran mobile diagnostic centers, performed hundreds of unnecessary tests and employed dozens of doctors, technicians, billing clerks and administrators.

It allegedly billed insurance carriers an average of $8.000 a patient.

The alleged ringleader. Michael Smushkevich, a 44-year-old Soviet Zionist immigrant, was indicted in June of 175 counts of mail fraud, money laundering, racketeering and conspiracy--along with his brother, his wife, his girlfriend, two doctors, a lawyer and five others.

Federal authorities believe gasoline excise tax frauds nationwide. including a lucrative operation by SOVIET ORGANIZED CRIME GANGS, will account for more than $1 billion in lost taxes this year.

The scheme, authorities say, is relatively simple: Organized crime gangs, as wholesalers, purchase gasoline through shell companies from distributors in South America and Africa and then sell it to independent gas stations nationwide. The gangs collect millions in taxes but do not turn it over to the government.

At up to 40 cents a gallon in state and federal taxes, or about $3,000 per tanker truck, the profits can add up quickly.

"If you consider the number of gallons sold, you begin to understand the magnitude of the potential problem and the temptation to cheat," said Assistant Attorney General Shirley D. Peterson, who heads the Justice Department's tax division. [H: This cannot go on without your own Government participation!]

"They run with the license for as long as they can before someone catches on, and then they're gone," said Detective William Pollard, a Los Angeles Police Department organized crime expert. "They can make millions of dollars in a very short period of time."

The Justice Department has more than 100 investigations under way into gas tax schemes in 18 cities and more are expected.

END OF QUOTING

Let us leave this document for now, Dharma, as we must attend trial matters for the upcoming court case. When we sit again I think it is time to write about the new deal with La Cosa Nostra launched Soviet Mafia. It is surely past time you attend your national affairs for soon you will have no nation of the people to attend.

Where is Justice?

Hatonn present in great love and caring, chela. With the realization that your heart is preoccupied with the court trial this week, I believe that we will devote the first portion of our writing to that subject--the incredible demise of your "justice" system.

For you readers, I cannot catch you up in full but I would say that the "trial" in point comes a full three and a-half years after the day when these ones went to public sale to purchase their property (in which they were already living and purchasing). The story is too lengthy but suffice it to say that they were attending THE sale at the instructions of the S&L in question. There was NO sale--not even an auctioneer to conduct the sale. After this it became a nightmare with false witnesses, incredible conspiracy and hundreds of thousands of dollars and over a hundred-fifty "motions", etc., dozens of court hearings--only to finally getting to start over. The first cause of action was an "Unlawful Detainer" action which finally got overthrown in one court to ONLY NOW get around to being heard. In other words, these people have lived with the threat of moving and losing every inch of property at the hands of liars and thieves for 3 and 1/2 years. Major court hearings always coming up during the major holidays. It has, however, been a prime example case and points up the incredible injustice in your judicial system. This time we have demanded (and paid for) a jury and perhaps it will be less easy to fool twelve citizens.

There is ample PROOF that the files have been tampered with and documents removed--once right in the courtroom--by the opposing attorney, Steven Horn. Dharma and Oberli both witnessed him remove the document and their attorney witnessed (simultaneously) Horn replacing adjacent files back into the bindings. When this was told to the Judge in chambers--the Judge upheld Horn's denial without even once questioning the witnesses. Further, in front of Ekker's lawyer and the Judge in that room--Mr. Horn threatened the Ekkers and specifically Dharma. He said to the Judge that Mrs. Ekker writes these perverted, preposterous and fanatic papers and "...if she prints one word of this outside this court, I will get them." You have come a long, long way, America--it will not be easy to undo these things for all is run by blackmail, bribes and other assorted criminal activities. It is up to you. These ones are willing to go to the Supreme Court with this if necessary but you will have to stand with them. I can assure you that just for this little "hearing" the court will be full and I will appreciate your prayers.

You see, perjury and fixed witnesses are the rule--not the exception.

In this line of discussion, I would like to share a Lawyer's point of view. This is one that none of you know for I do not wish to involve our own Attorney's views in this public document but this young man sums up the system in its pervasiveness.

Why I quit practicing Law

11/25/91 #1 HATONN

By Sam Benson. Interviewed in Newsweek magazine, Nov. 4, 1991. Benson, 35, lives in Colorado Springs, Colo, and is writing a book about why he quit the law. [H: You readers in Colorado Springs or "all of you readers"--contact this man and get him in touch with our Law Center, please. I wanted no contact of any kind prior to the writing of this material.]

QUOTE:

One day two summers ago I sat and looked out the window of my office at the fancy landscaping and the immaculately kept brick driveway and I suddenly knew I was going to quit my job. The next morning I told one of the firm's partners, an old friend, that I did not want to practice law anymore. I will never forget the overwhelming sense of relief I felt as soon as the words were out. Now, many months later, I am astounded that I was able to practice law for more than two years of my life. It was not any single event that pushed me over the edge. It was an uneasiness, an uncomfortableness that was always there for me. I was tired of the deceit. I was tired of the chicanery. But most of all, I was tired of the misery my job caused other people.

In the United States, we have what is known as an adversarial system of law. This means that attorneys in practice are hired to oppose somebody or some entity with all the power and vigor that the system gives them. The code of ethics states that an attorney must zealously represent his or her client. This is where the concept of the attorney as a "hired gun" originates. In practice this creates a warlike atmosphere for attorneys in which they are pressured by clients to win at any cost and by any means available. And, as we found out during Desert Storm, truth is often the first casualty of war.

In this warlike setting, cooperation is often seen as a sign of weakness. Many attorneys believe that "zealously representing their clients" means pushing all rules of ethics and decency to the limit. The sad thing is, they may be right. A nice guy does not usually make a good attorney in the adversarial system.

The old warring axiom that "the best defense is a good offense" is usually the battle cry for zealous lawyers. An attorney launches his or her offense by using "discovery" as a weapon. During litigation, both sides are allowed to "discover" as much as they can about the other side's case prior to trial. This is done with oral depositions (transcribed testimony in a formal setting), detailed interrogatories (written questions) and requests for documents and other records calculated to lead to relevant evidence. While this all sounds fine and dandy, in reality the discovery process is often used to intimidate, harass and cost an opponent time and attorneys' fees in addition to finding facts. In many cases, the winner is the last party still financially able to pay the attorney.

Justice is an insignificant concept in today's legal system. Attorneys who specialize in civil litigation--the personal-injury cases, contract disputes, malpractice cases, etc., that are the bread and butter of most practices--are simply more interested in winning cases than solving disputes by finding a fair solution. When people pay an attorney $250 an hour, they do not want compromise: they want their attorney to do battle with all guns blazing. The theory is that with the two sides battling it out tooth and nail, the deserving party will prevail. The reality is that the side that strikes hardest and fastest is likely to prevail regardless of the relative merits of their cases.

This makes most lawsuits entirely passionless adventures, undertaken with little or no conviction or principles. To be successful you either have to make winning an imperative with a life of its own, or you learn to rationalize by ignoring the detrimental facts of your case while accentuating the helpful ones until you begin to believe your own position. By using the adversarial system, we have created a profession in this country that by its very nature encourages being disagreeable, pushy and sometimes even dishonest to be successful. Then we turn around and hate attorneys for being disagreeable, pushy and dishonest.

Cutting corners: There are attorneys who do their best to balance these inherent conflicts without sacrificing their integrity. My point is that the adversarial system makes it inherently difficult to do so. Those who act ethically often put themselves at a competitive disadvantage. Obviously, this is a very difficult situation to explain to a frustrated client.

It is not hard to imagine in this atmosphere how easy it is for attorneys to start cutting corners. In fact, it has been suggested by at least one legal scholar that lying and deception in the legal profession are serious and pervasive problems. "For years we have 'winked, blinked and nodded' at blatant if not outrageous lying and deception in pleading, negotiating, investigating, testifying, and bargaining. In almost every aspect of our professional practice we have come to accept, in fact to expect, a certain amount of lying and deception.... ", wrote Richard K. Burke, professor of law at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, in a 1984 law-review article. "Not only our code of ethics, but also many of our rules of evidence and procedure frustrate and inhibit truth telling and truth finding and are largely responsible for the wholesale public condemnation that plagues us."

At the present time, I know that there are assaults on these problems such as revisions in the code of ethics and the use of mediation and arbitration to settle disputes outside the courtroom. I am simply stating my perception that there are some built-in conflicts in the "adversarial system" that are going to make real reform very difficult. As long as we have an adversarial system we must expect attorneys to in fact be adversarial and zealously represent their clients. However, attorneys cannot expect the public to love them while they are acting in that role. If the legal profession wants to change its image, it needs to get serious about solving problems rather than justifying, exacerbating and inflaming problems just to win a case. To do this would involve a total overhaul of the legal system, not just a new paint job. I doubt that this is likely to occur anytime soon.

END OF QUOTING

The above only touches the very shallow surface of the facts of the corruption in the system. When you have a massive scandal such as the Savings & Loan, specifically in this case in point--Santa Barbara Savings and Loan Association--the culprits in crime go all the way to the U.S. White House and two Presidents, Reagan and Bush. This particular case includes the Resolution Trust Corporation in corruption, Sen. Alan Cranston, Shea and Gould Law firm and numerous Judges and Lawyers who have and are, actually involved in the efforts to "take this piece of property". The property was "flipped" many times by "deed buyers" and finally ended up even with Salomon Brothers involved. America, I don't see any hope for your nation or freedom in Truth if this is allowed to continue.

HOW AND WHEN WILL THIS END?

How will this end? Well, perhaps you should judge. Three and a-half years of litigation--only to "starting over" indicates that it depends on the bribes and blackmail involved.

Either way, this week's trial only determines whether or not there was an actual sale--nothing more. If it is determined there "was" a sale, in spite of proof otherwise--the intent is to take possession of the property and toss the Ekkers into the street. If "our side" proves there was "no sale", then the whole thing starts again over "quieting title" and somewhere out there a million years from now may or may not come to accounting of damages and ultimate solution. How many of you readers can endure the pressures of half-a-million dollars to two or three million dollars in legal fees to fight over a $175,000 dollar property? Do you see how you are "had"? The RTC, who now has control of the "deed", is just receiving another $80 billion of your money (taxes) to support these insider thieves and legal slime suckers. In some instances the RTC is paying ten to twenty lawyers while cases are in progress. In this case alone, Mr. Horn is receiving untold amounts with no end in sight--and he gets his fees within ten days--cash across the board! He has, in addition, hired other law firms at outrageous prices like some $12,000 to write one "writ" which, itself, was totally overflowing with incredible lies and misrepresentations to the point of being dismissed from a higher court. In addition to that, there are now RTC attorneys in unlimited flow in participation, along with all the people who previously staged this event at SBS sitting in higher salaried positions now being paid by the RTC instead of the defunct (in receivership) S & L. In this case Bank of America was allowed to purchase, at ridiculous prices, all GOOD assets of SBS while the RTC takes the "BAD" or "litigation" assets. Further, the adversary "opposition" in this case will do ANYTHING to stop this information from becoming public.

We found that one lawyer was required to falsify a "reconstructed" hearing (because the taped testimony from the courtroom was stolen from the court files). This "reconstruction" was "privately" conducted with just the Judge and the two attorneys. The clients were not even notified and were not allowed to be present nor the conclusion opened for accuracy. (The Ekker's were, however, required to PAY for the cost of the reconstruction, both in court time and legal fees.) The information was not allowed the clients for some two years at which point it was noted that the client's own attorney falsified the statements. The document finally surfaced "after the time of expiration of 'statute of limitations' had run." (Or, so the attorneys thought--isn't it nice that our current attorneys noted those expiration dates and filed a quiet suit to keep the time from expiring. This is now in full expectation of confrontation.)

This is why it is so hard for me to take sides and proclaim purity in ones such as Hill and Thomas. Both lied, both had ulterior motives and a man like Thomas does not work within a system so corrupt and not have misused the courts at some time in his career. He would not have been appointed by the criminals above him if he was "PURE". He is, however, a relatively good person and would actually serve well--IF YOU-THE-PEOPLE SUPPORTED AND DEMANDED CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND JUSTICE. WHAT HAPPENS IS TOTALLY UP TO YOU-THE-PEOPLE AND WHAT YOU CHOOSE TO DO TO STOP THIS MADNESS!

Dharma, I am going to close this document now for your level of stress has about reached the point of blowout. We have an all-afternoon meeting to conduct and I can only offer my love and appreciation unto you, chela. I shall not move from your side and we will take a portion of this meeting to give opportunity to share with the gathered ones, this case--we will have a practice session and get the ones present and unfamiliar with the case to act as jury. It will be an excellent opportunity for refreshing memories, blowing off the steam and allowing the "group" to participate.

All are welcome to the court and I would urge all who can come personally to that "trial" to be present. We must begin to support ones who dare to stand forth in TRUTH.

Shamir to take more Arab land

11/25/91 #1 HATONN

I can only warn you once again, to beware of the Gray Lizard! Shamir returned to Israel (State of) but he is not through with you nor with taking all of the lands he declares belong in the bundle with Israel. He may wear a plastered smile but he intends to command and demand control and of all things he detests, the most detested is to be questioned as to loyalty and/or authority. The "Jewish" community by and large resisted his obvious pushing and soliciting. He is rebuked by requests of other nations to hold talks in the U.S.--but he won't agree to any talks in any nearby Arab nations so he is building a facade to fool all of you--again. All of this is for appearances while he TELLS you what he is going to do--ISRAEL INTENDS TO TAKE BY FORCE THOSE NEARBY NATIONS ONE WAY OR ANOTHER--WHETHER THROUGH OCCUPATION OR WAR DOESN'T MATTER MUCH TO THE KHAZARS. The real purpose of Shamir's visit to the U.S., however, was to allow his entourage to disperse and meet all over your nation with inside operatives to finalize plans within the U.S. I shall get to this connection in just a minute.

The economy is so teetery that something will have to happen very quickly--the intent all along was to instigate some sort of emergency prior to the first of the year to distract all of you and now the plans are laid and functional. You will note that "after the Constitutional deadline", dickering is still going on in Congress. The Congress wants to adjourn and you are distracted by the holidays and so you have again seen laid the deliberate method to pass bills and other things right in front of you without you seeing what is being done TO you.

I desire to write in depth about the Banks and Thrifts in transition but I find shedding light on our upcoming segment more urgent in view of recent Israeli top-level visitors. The in-place Soviet Mafia is hand in hand with the Israeli power brokers and criminals and you have a most serious problem to confront--along with everything else falling down on you. Hiding it will not make it go away--hiding it is what has brought it down upon you. As for the Banks and Thrifts, there is a superb book now in publication which is far more easily understood by you as written by men on your place. I ask that information regarding that book be given in this paper. Tapes on the subject can also be obtained but I prefer our publisher give those details for we are so pushed for "time" to alert you on other matters. (Eds: INSIDE JOB, ETC. by S. Pizzo, Harper Collins Publishers, P.O. Box 388, Dunmore, PA 18512 ($10,95 paperback)

I have given you much on the Resolution Trust Corporation and will write in detail about the government "Issue Brief" as made public as a "Major Planning Issue" as presented in Congressional hearings, reports, and documents. The "contrast" and supplementation to the book above mentioned will make for comprehensive insight and I hope you will utilize both for I prefer to not have to go into more depth as it is only one iceberg in your sea of troubles.

I do not wish to spend time on politics, so-called shuttle launches and/or Sununu. You are, if you read regularly, informed enough to know that for which to look. Please understand that my people (scribe) has a most important "trial" this week and I must allow time for instruction and legal planning.

Note carefully what is happening in the East Bloc (Soviet) nations and the methodical destruction of the resisters and all buildings, homes and industry to disallow any return to normal and/or possible "living"--in those areas for years and years to come--as it was.

I am going to turn attention now to what we will refer to as "Deal with La Cosa Nostra Launched Soviet Mafia". Rather than give you higher resource into the subject I am going to again utilize information present and available. It is far better if you are not having to say that a space person gave you this shocking information if at all possible.

I do, however, have to protect sources and intelligence investigators so please bear with me as to where I got the writings from which I write this day. The original information was brought forth by one Jonas Bernstein of the Washington Times. I leave it to you to be discerning but you had best note how carefully the world-wide revolution has been launched----not peace. Remember those rules in the "Manifesto" and "Talmudic Protocols"? Well, you do NOT have PEACE moving upon you. You DO HAVE "...., men against women, women against men,...." You have nation against nation, states against states, and thus and so--I need not spout it all to you again. You must attend, however, the magnitude of the accomplishment of the goal as provided in those "rules" and "laws" of action in those projections.

I give appreciation to this author in point and to the inside researchers who have diligently gotten confirmation of the information.

The reprint is from the Washington Times at the end of September 1991 (29th). We simply have not had opportunity to share it prior to now so please be patient with us.

Crime in USSR increases markedly

11/25/91 #1 HATONN

QUOTING:

MOSCOW: Moscow these days might be summed up in a phrase: too many people chasing too few dollars.

With the economy in collapse, and the value of the ruble plummeting along with the supply of most consumer items, virtually everybody seems to be doing the hard-currency hustle: from the ubiquitous young men hawking T-shirts, Soviet flags, and other communist paraphernalia to the 50 hookers who cruise the bars of the Intourist hotel each evening.

Dollar customers can jump the queue at the Prague restaurant on Moscow's famous Arbat. A full-service restaurant, indeed: With the first course, the waiter pulls out a pocketful of Soviet military watches; with the second, caviar.

"You want girls?" he asks as he brings dessert, gesturing toward two young women who have been hovering at the entrance of the hard-currency room.

For more and more Soviets, anything goes. But is it "crime", or simply part of the transition to a market economy? Official statistics indicate a crime wave: In Moscow at the start of the 1980's, there were 20,000 crimes a year; last year there were 46,000.

Nationwide, crime has increased 40 percent in the past five years. But nobody seems to know exactly what is a crime and what isn't. Ask police officials about the droves of prostitutes flagrantly plying their trade in Moscow's big hotels and restaurants, and they'll note that, strictly speaking, there are no laws against it. [H: Nor any inspection for disease and/or AIDS.]

"Anyway, it's very hard to prove," they invariably add. Such benign neglect presages a growth industry: In a recent survey, when Soviet high school girls were asked what they wanted to be after graduation, 75% said "hard-currency prostitute".

SOVIET CRIME GOES

MODERN

Like the clothes worn by young Muscovites, some of the crime is looking more au courant: The Russian police seized 16.3 tons of drugs last year, mostly opium and marijuana, and the quantity of drugs captured during the first three months of this year was up 107 percent over the same period last year.

The fact that 10,000 acres of top-quality weed grows wild in Russia (which has the largest cannabis fields in Europe) suggest future increases.

Illegal sales of arms--including, most recently, guns imported from Western Europe that fire tear gas--have surged. Murder rate, juvenile crime--both up.

On top of this, the six years since the birth of perestroika have seen the rise not only of private business-men but also free-lance gangsters and racketeers.

The emergence of joint ventures and semiprivate cooperative businesses combined with an equally rapid drop in productivity and increasing scarcity have created a virtual petri dish for criminal groups.

Just as anywhere else, the escapades of the underworld have captured the imagination of the Soviet public. They have also been a great source of copy for publications like "Commersant", a wildly popular independent political/business weekly.

In December it carried an article, whose author understandably wished to remain anonymous, describing the activities of 10 criminal gangs operating in the capital.

The piece included a map of Moscow, showing their spheres of influence. The groups' activities, according to the article: shakedowns of underground and cooperative businesses, prostitution, drugs and gambling.

Perhaps the most legendary is the Lubertsy gang, named after its home base on the outskirts of Moscow. It was born in the late Brezhnev era, when the collapsing petrodollar meant the Communist Party could no longer keep the state shops even minimally supplied. A deficit in goods meant a rise in crime.

"I remember the first 'Lubers'," says Alexander Gorokin, a criminologist who for 10 years worked in the Moscow police force's Department of Criminal Investigation.

"In 1980 or 1981 (a decade ago), four boys from Lubertsy, between 16 and 18--big boys, one a boxer--came to Moscow, and went to a department store. They had coupons. They didn't find the kind of stuff they wanted, and someone offered to buy the coupons in front of the shop, at a 2 rubles-to-one rate.

"They made the deal and sold these coupons. They realized they got a so-called 'doll', a pack of money with two bills on either end, but only paper in the middle. When they realized they had been swindled, they decided to get their money back.

"And because the people pulling these swindles in front of the shops were not very big, they caught them and beat them. They got their money back. They were successful and liked it. They hired several other boys from Lubertsy and came to this... store a second time, and the dealers in front of the shop started paying them off."

The gang eventually developed into a large Mafia-like organization. In late June, seven Lubertsy mobsters were sentenced to prison for robbery and attempted murder. It was Moscow City Court's first verdict against a criminal group, sentences were handed down despite the fact that during the trial all of the witnesses and victims retracted the statements they had made during the police investigation. [H: Ah, competition is a nasty thing, isn't it?]

A MULTITUDE OF MAFIAS

The Russian republic's Ministry of Internal Affairs says there are 3,000 criminal groups of varying sizes in Russia alone, along with over 200 major crime bosses. (The republic contains more than 50 percent of the Soviet Union's population and 76 percent of its territory).

Their activities differ, often depending on local tradition or geography. In the north Caucasus, you find banditry, in the Far East, criminal activity centers on secondhand Japanese cars. What worries police is the growing sophistication of many of the groups.

"The mechanism is usually the same," says Egorov Konstantinovich, head of the organized crime section of the Russian republic's Ministry of Internal Affairs. "First they make money through banditry--stealing and so on. Then they get property. Then they try to open joint ventures or co-ops, they go abroad, they buy hard currency. etc."

Another major source of gossip among Muscovites, as well as crime writers, are the Chechens, an ethnic Muslim group from the north Caucasus. [H: No, they are not Muslims--they use the cover of proclaiming themselves Muslim--they are Khazarian right out of the ruling system. The story is worthy of the telling and becomes more important keeping the preceding fact uppermost in mind. This is where delusions are built and nurtured and repetition becomes recognized as "fact" even if totally false.] The name (Chechens) has become synonymous with one particularly vicious crime gang.

It began in the late 1970'1, in the South Port section of Moscow, the location of a big, informal second-hand car market. The Chechen gang preyed on people selling their cars and later moved into petty racketeering and prostitution. Their methods, according to both fact and legend, were notably violent. The gang grew in size and sophistication, and members soon opened up cooperatives and began to launder their money.

The Chechen gang, like the Lubertsy, has been greatly weakened by arrests this year. There are rumors that the other crime gangs of Moscow have formed an alliance aimed at driving the remnants of the Chechen group out of the capital. But, says

Konstantinovich of Russia's antimob unit, "We have a saying in Russian: 'A blessed place can't be empty'. One group leaves, another takes its place."

A BLACK CIRCLE

Police complain that in their fight against organized crime they are hampered by weak legislation. In Soviet law there is no such phrase as "organized crime". Officials say they would like the Supreme Soviet to adopt measures similar to the comprehensive anti-racketeering (RICO) legislation in the United States. [H: Anyone queasy and nervous yet?]

Others say that such reforms would treat symptoms, not causes. The problem of crime, they say, goes much deeper: For years, crime and the communist system have existed in symbiosis. Until recently, any business activity in the Soviet Union was illegal. So it was driven underground and it survived in large part by bribing officialdom. The Communist Party apparatus grew fat off this "shadow economy", and the underground businessman himself began to develop a criminal psychology.

This is what Uri Schekochikhin, a columnist with Literturnaya Gazeta and perhaps Russia's most famous crime observer, has called a "black circle". He estimates that 80 percent of the profits of organized crime went to bribe communist officials.

While communism has collapsed [H: NO--ONLY THE LABEL.], these legacies have not: Police corruption, for instance, "knows no limits" says Moscow sociologist Igor Jakovenko, who saw it in action five years ago when he conducted a sociological study of hard-currency prostitutes at the Cosmos hotel.

Igor Svinarenko, a crime writer with Commersant, agrees, but has sympathy for the police. "I'm studying daily the poor conditions of police," he says. "For example, one officer is catching gangsters--not behind a desk, you know, but a good professional. He makes 400 rubles a month. Do you know what 400 rubles is? These are 500 rubles," he says, pointing to his jeans.

The frequent result: "They make dirty business. I cannot forgive their crime. But I cannot demand that they protect me and risk their lives for 400 rubles a month." [H: Please take this opportunity to compare nations, etc. Note how subtle is the plan to cause ones to depend upon evil and criminal methods to become "hooked" on a physical standard which becomes unacceptable to change!]

While not facing the same danger as the police, the average Soviet citizen faces the same hardships--shortages and low wages paid in increasingly worthless rubles. Virtually everyone with half a brain seems to have a scheme going on the side. [H: This is exactly what has happened to all the nations and is prevalent in the U.S. to the point of total destruction of your populace. What will you do, Americans, when the welfare is cut-off, there is no disability or unemployment income, no medical care and NO FOOD—for the housing is already turning massively back to the criminal elements set up to attend the problem? What ARE YOU going to do? Crime is already massive, even among the youth who are supplied drugs and guns and trained to kill without thought or care. It is gravely serious!]

"Many people have a business that involves going to Singapore, or maybe Delhi or Kabul; they buy there some manufacture, some shirts and jeans and other things," says Gregory Kazankov, one of Moscow's new young private businessmen. "They buy, in dollars [how interesting], these clothes, for say, $50, top $70. They go through our customs, sometimes paying off the customs officer."

In Moscow, they can sell these items to commercial shops for as much as 7,000 to 8,000 rubles, a profit of 500 percent or more. [H: This is even more interesting since we just noted 400 rubles is the monthly average income!] "Then they buy dollars in Moscow for rubles on the black market....And then they go to Delhi again."

For Arkady Murashev, a cochairman of the Democratic Russia movement and considered by some a likely future Russian president, the new "business"--illegal, shady, what have you--is simply the market system in its infancy.

An avid free-marketeer he is; a Puritan, he isn't. Ask him about prostitution: "It's a free choice of her, and a free choice of you. Where's the crime?" Drugs? Decriminalize them, as in Holland. [H: Humnn?!]

Others agree that much of what officialdom calls "organized crime" is simply protocapitalism. "You can compare the development of criminals in our socialist country with the first centuries of the development of capitalism in Europe," says Comersant's Mr. Svinarenko. "The first capitalists were also gangsters and pirates. Terrible people. But this way they earned their money and started capital. And then their children or grandsons became normal businessmen. You know: 'My father was a bandit, a gangster, he was hanged, but now I'm a good, normal citizen'."

Some of Moscow's crime gangs, he adds, "are developing into normal business constructions. They are shooting only rarely. So these terrible murders, terrible crimes, these are for dilettantes, newcomers."

But a frequently expressed worry is that the Soviet Union, rather than moving to a true market economy, will stall somewhere in the middle. The result, some in the intelligentsia fear, will be something like a hybrid of Colombia, with its economically powerful and politically influential drug barons, and Mexico, with its thoroughly corrupt ruling party and huge disparities of wealth. [H: Like where in the world is ALL THAT GRAIN AND ASSISTANCE "STUFF" GOING IN RUSSIA? RIGHT! IT IS BEING HANDLED SECURELY BY THE KGB! YOU GIVE IT AND THE KGB OPERATES A DEMOCRATIC-CAPITALISTIC DISTRIBUTION!]

Even an observer as experienced as Literaturnaya Gazeta's Schekochihin is not sure where all this is leading.

"I know some great people from the real Mafia," he says. "One, you see him on television all the time. He's a very respectable man; the head of one great organization, new cooperative organization. I know that he is a friend with some of the new politicians... He's a great man, but he's a gangster--I know it. Some years ago he was the head of a common foundation of criminals (association of criminal groups). And real criminal groups--not from the black market, but REAL criminals. Sometimes I don't know, maybe, what is normal. Because I work and try to understand what is going on in our country, what is normal, what is not. It's our life: not very simple."

Many of these crime gangs have merged or work independently in other nations and the largest shift has been into and within the select placements in the United States and Canada. But it is important to understand the growth and out-of-control growth in the Soviet Union--as if totally following a plan of some proportion and long-laid.

In one instance two hit men from Moscow were sent to kill a Brighton Beach businessman who refused to cooperate in a still-unsolved crime.

"Their expansion parallels that of the early beginnings of La Cosa Nostra," says FBI Supervisory Agent Susan Chainer, who heads the bureau's foreign counterintelligence division in Los Angeles, where about 30,000 Soviet immigrants live. [Oops!]

"It's a natural evolutionary process, and while we still consider the Soviets to be an emerging crime problem, we see them branching out," she says. "They have broadened their victim population."

Soviet crime gangs this year, according to authorities, will steal hundreds of millions of dollars in gasoline excise taxes from New York City to Los Angeles [not to mention getting the gasoline in criminal manner also]. They will also account for millions in various insurance and credit card frauds; and smuggle hundreds of stolen weapons out of the country to buyers in the Soviet Union, Israel, South America and Africa.

And authorities fear that relaxed U.S. immigration rules to accommodate Jews fleeing increased anti-Semitism in the Soviet Union and a recent willingness on the part of the Soviets to open their borders will pave the way for an influx of up to 5 million immigrants--including criminals.

"It will be a difficult process to screen all those applications to ensure that those who don't belong here don't make it in," says Thomas Parker, assistant agent in charge of the FBI field office in Los Angeles. "There will be those looking to take advantage of the situation." [H: Yes indeed--like the FBI and Thomas Parker!]

PAY ATTENTION: THESE ARE CLUES!

HARDENED BY THE KGB and Russian prisons, many Soviet criminals--from Kiev, Moscow, Odessa and Leningrad--found that gaining entry into the United States was easy. U.S. authorities said many qualified as Jewish emigres, and those who didn't easily obtained fraudulent documents to win visas.

"While the vast majority of Soviets did not take advantage of humanitarian efforts by the United States for their own personal reasons, some did," says a high-ranking U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service official. "And it has been nearly impossible to screen undesirables out."

Many applicants, the official says, had been prison inmates, apparently well trained in criminal activities, but records seldom said why. As a result, he said, U.S. authorities waived the requirement for detailed explanations of prior arrests or prison sentences--a policy that remains today.

"There was no way to tell if they were political prisoners or hardened criminals", the INS official says. "So there was no way to fairly reject anyone."

The exodus did not go unnoticed by the KGB. U.S. officials, including the President's Commission on Organized Crime, said many of the Soviet Union's most dangerous criminals got help from the intelligence agency to leave the country.

"KGB officials attempted to empty their prisons and rid their society of undesirables, much as Fidel Castro did during the Mariel boat-lift," the commission noted in an April 1986 report. It also concluded that a number of KGB agents "were included among the large numbers of Russian emigres" and that "a possible connection exists between the KGB and Soviet immigrants now involved in organized crime" in the United States.

"There's no disputing the fact that the KGB was involved in getting Soviet criminals into this country," says Alexandre Grant, editor of Novoye Rosskoye Slovo, New York City's largest Russian-language daily. "You might say it was an opportunity they just couldn't refuse."

The largest Soviet gang in this country, authorities say, operates out of the Brighton Beach area of Brooklyn (U.S.A.). Known as "Little Odessa by the Sea", the picturesque community of Old World shops and colorful street peddlers linked to Coney Island by a 68-year-old boardwalk is home to about 60,000 Soviet Jewish immigrants.

Operating in the shadow of the elevated subway tracks over Brighton Beach Avenue, The Soviet Mafia initially established itself by extorting from community residents. The newly arrived immigrants, who spoke little or no English, proved to be easy targets.

"They figured out in Moscow and Kiev and Odessa how to operate, and they just brought it here," says Judah Klein, executive director of the Jewish Community Council in Brighton Beach. "Many learned to lie and steal and cheat just to survive, and some got very good at it.

"And once here, they got even better," he said.

The vast majority of Soviet emigres here are hard-working, honest people," says New York Patrolman Joseph Armenia, who has walked a beat in Brighton Beach for more than two years. "Organized crime? It's hard to document, but it's here. There are meetings, and we've had hits. I just hope the FBI is on top of it." [H: Boy, are they ever!]

Authorities say that after Brighton Beach, the next major center for Soviet Mafia

activities is Los Angeles. Other emerging operations are believed to be in Miami, Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore, Cleveland, Detroit and Seattle.

They are loosely organized, low-profile and nearly impossible to infiltrate. Most gang members are known to law-abiding Soviets, many of whom are afraid to report them to U.S. law enforcement officials. [H: This is TYPICAL of the manner in which the "Mossad" (KGB) sets up operations—all the while the so-called "exchange officers" are infiltrated into the local police and intelligence services.]

"They are very vicious and very violent with their own people," says Detective William Pollard, a veteran organized crime investigator for the Los Angeles Police Department. "They're not afraid to show their muscle, and sometimes people turn up dead."

Evsei Agron, a Leningrad-born Jewish immigrant identified by police as the first boss of the Soviet Mafia, was not afraid to show his muscle. He often carried an electric cattle prod to enforce his threats and made thousands of dollars by threatening to kill the sons, daughters and wives of other Soviet emigres.

The 51-year-old immigrant maintained tight control of the Brighton Beach community for nearly five years, boasting about time he spent in a Soviet prison and about killings he purportedly had committed, police said.

It was Agron who moved the Russian Meta out of Brighton Beach and into new markets by forging a link with the Colombo crime family in New York. The 1983 Long Island meeting between Colombo captain Larry Iarizzo and Agron's lieutenant, Michael Markowitz, resulted in a 25 percent take for the Soviets in a $500 million gas tax scam over two years.

"It was quite a significant meeting", one New York detective says. "When the Colombo family discovered the Russians were trying to move into the gas tax market, they could have just whacked them. But they chose to meet, and that was an important moment in the birth of the Russian Mafia.

That early beginning, police say, has since developed into a working relationship by the Soviets with four of the five La Cosa Nostra families in New York.

Soviet crime thugs in Los Angeles are not as well organized, but detectives have spotted "some of the New York guys" there and believe a working relationship exists between the two groups. For example; they say credit cards recently stolen in Los Angeles turned up in Brighton Beach.

Mr. Grant says The Brighton Beach mob, like other emerging Soviet gangs nationwide, has evolved through three major stages: extortion from its own community, expansion to other crimes and movement into legitimate businesses.

"They have been successful because they're willing to take chances," he says. "More importantly, they have discovered that the better they're organized, the more influential they become, and the more influential they become, the more money they make."

The gangs' most profitable crime, police say, has been gas excise tax scams. Buying gas from outlets in Africa and South America, the Soviets have established a network of buyers nationwide, particularly in independent stations in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and California.

As wholesalers under shell companies, they collect excise taxes from the retailers but never pay the money to the government. The Soviets, along with their La Cosa Nostra partners, are expected to make more than $1 billion in profits this year in lost tax revenues. [H: Now let me recall—was not the thrust to make up missing tax funds, a massive thrust to police and prosecute you struggling citizens into collection of taxes which had somehow not been collected according to THEIR calculations? How do you feel about this multi-billion tax-"avoidance"?)]

"This is a business that requires very little sophistication," says Ms. Brevetti, whose strike force first identified and later prosecuted excise tax thieves in New York.

NOW A CRIMINAL DEFENSE LAWYER in Manhattan [H: It pays lots better!], she is among a growing number of current and former law enforcement officials [who claim] concern about a lack of commitment on the part of the Justice Department to vigorously prosecute Soviet organized crime gangs. [H: Please, readers, you have now been given so many clues and relationships among all these organizations and your government—that you should, by now, be piecing the entire story of inter-coalition of these insider hooked-up deals and organizations. Please, you must begin to see these connections for selves. You must be suspicious and discerning in EVERY instance.]

In its 1991 national organized crime strategy, the Justice Department does NOT mention Soviet gangs, although it does cite Italians, Asians, Jamaicans, outlaw motorcycle gangs and the Bloods and Crips as ongoing targets. The Jewish Soviets were also noticeably omitted from a department report on non-traditional organized crime given last year to the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations.

Soviet Jewish gangs, according to the department, are considered an emerging crime problem and are NOT formally listed as organized crime for some unknown reason. But the New York City Police Department has quietly established a Soviet desk in its organized crime section and has identified more than 500 suspected Soviet gang leaders and operating members.

State and local authorities expressed frustration over the lack of adequate response by the federal government, saying the low priority has complicated the law enforcement efforts.

"Anyone who thinks Soviet Jewish gangs are not organized crime," says Ms. Brevetti, "is fooling themselves."

END QUOTING From Washington Times

SOVIET: A DON IN LIFE, IN DEATH

Let us try another article about this man, Agron, which I think you will find equally interesting. This also comes from an article in the Washington Times by Jerry Seper.

NEW YORK--The seven-story brownstone overlooks busy Ocean Parkway, a noisy expanse of grime-covered concrete. The building is not unlike others lining the four-lane road, protected by fences, closely trimmed lawns and freshly watered shrubs.

The scene was much the same on the Saturday morning in May 1985 when Evsei Agron, a Jewish-Soviet Immigrant and resident of the building, headed for the Russian baths in Manhattan's East Village. He left his fifth-floor apartment for the elevator to meet his driver, Boris Nayfield, on the street below.

"I heard three pops, but thought very little of it," said a resident of the building who asked not to be identified. "I thought it was some car on the street."

With three shots to the head, the 51-year-old reputed founder and boss of the Soviet-Jewish Mafia was dead.

"There are those who say Agron was killed by the Colombo crime family because he had encroached on their turf," said one New York police detective who requested anonymity. "Others think he was the victim of an internal struggle within the 'Soviet Mafia'. It's really anybody's guess."

Whatever the case, Agron's killer has never been caught. The murder weapon, said to be a .25-caliber handgun, has never been found. The only thing police know for sure is that Mr. Nayfeld, also a Soviet-Jewish immigrant, later went to work as a driver for Marat Balaguia, who New York police believe was Agron's successor.

Agron was the first and last boss of the Soviet-Jewish mob who played the part as if he were a character in a U.S. gangster movie. He was listed as a vice president of a Brooklyn health club, but police said he often made rounds in nearby Brighton Beach, home to nearly 60,000 Soviet 'Jewish' emigres, accompanied by several bodyguards.

A short man who weighed less than 140 pounds, Agron nonetheless was a fearsome figure [H: Yes, and so is Y. Shamir!]. Police said he kept an electric cattle prod in his car and once extorted $15,000 from another Soviet immigrant after threatening to kill the man's daughter on her wedding day. [H: What kind of a "cattle prod" did Mr. Shamir use on the so-called Jewish community this time? Where are you, America?]

Agron, who dressed in expensive clothes and liked to be seen with beautiful women, forged links with La Cosa Nostra crime families in New York and is credited with bringing sophistication and profits to the Soviet mob.

The May 1985 shooting was not the first time he had been targeted. Sixteen months earlier, he was shot in the neck outside his apartment but survived—telling police at the scene he would "take care" of the assailant himself. Police said when doctors removed the bullet from Agron's neck in that incident, they found other bullets in his body from previous wounds.

"He was a tough guy," said Alexandre Grant, editor of Novoye Rosskoye Slovo, New York City's largest Russian-language daily. "He thought he was Don Carleone from the 'Godfather' movies, and for a time he was."

Balaguia, a Soviet-Jewish immigrant who purportedly assumed control of the Soviet mob after Agron's death is known in Brighton Beach as the 'Big Man' or the 'Georgian'."

The 48-year-old Balaguia fled to Europe and South America in 1986 following his conviction in Philadelphia in a 8360,000 credit card fraud. In February 1990, he was arrested in Germany and returned to the United States, where he was sentenced to seven years in prison.

With Agron dead and Balagula in prison, it is not clear to law enforcement authorities if a new boss has been installed, although they believe the organization has since evolved into at least five groups, each having its own "krootoi", or leader. [H: This makes it far easier to simply merge into established groups in the political-criminal alliance groups in the U.S. It is no longer appropriate to operate in the old method of "families" but rather to scatter and infiltrate where blackmail and control can more easily be orchestrated. The time has arrived for the coalition of forces in order to accomplish the ultimate goal of take-over. Herein you can see that it is "desirable" to not have to nuke your nation because so many of their own operatives will "get killed"; however, that was ultimately and soundly made a part of the understanding at onset of any participation—the probability of getting killed in the action if an uprising of the citizenry should take place. Greed is a strange thing—the risk becomes worth the returns in control and money—yes indeed, strange!]

END OF QUOTING

I think this is sufficient substance for the "chewing" this morning. I trust you will heed the warning signs for today they are most surely "all around you".

I will take leave that the scribe can attend the legal necessities today. Thank you for your attention.

Hatonn to clear the board. Salu.

Ones in service

11/27/91 #1 HATONN

In the wondrous beauty of this fall day in Southern California, I find it both painful and wondrous that you precious ones cannot see all. Across the world at this Thanksgiving time there is such variance of weather, political problems, health problems, healings, grief, joy and all the variety of experiences going on all at once. Perhaps it can give you a bit of insight to broader thinking and seeing relationships with your brethren who seem so remote and yet are now in your very living rooms. You who are caused to "see it first" are wrapped in my love and protection for the burden is so very heavy--but, dear ones, so many are opening their eyes and are ready for service to assist as the task can be isolated and the purpose delineated.

What seems difficult to comprehend is that as you find out facts you will note that many connections were in operation far back into what you consider "past".

As a for instance, Bill Cooper goes about the country(s) making great defamation speeches against George Green. I suggest that Mr. Cooper be made apprized of secret listings of ones being followed daily by the CIA. Mr. Green falls on THAT list which might well be called the "black list" of the CIA and has been since the early 1980's. I find it most amusing that you ones don't seem to understand even that which I tell you.

Ones come to me and threaten and petition and, as if it is slander, it is thrown into my face that "George probably worked for an intelligence group." So? I certainly do hope so for that is one of the major reasons he is in my service! He will not tell you this and it is time you ones learn discretion because you seem to have a diligent purpose in gossiping which leads to death of the ones you claim to love and cherish. Well, is he? It is none of your business! Please tend of your own business, friends, and that should keep you sufficiently busy.

If you are to turn this nation (and world) around you are going to HAVE TO HAVE ones who have worked and experienced the corruption and lies to the extent of KNOWING the subterfuge. If the enemy bothers, then, to send more into your midst who are "their" people--give honor because you are making impact--God goes to the workers who can and will do the job without fear and trembling. A few good men can and shall turn this place around if it can be thus.

In your efforts to "get ones out of incarceration", for instance, you must listen to input for some, if they be released, are "dead-men". Some, if the thrust is too great to attain freedom, become marked and "dead" within the prison. You ones must give selves into deep and total thought before you jump into the foolishness of making wrong moves. I specifically ask that you give most careful thought to Jonathan May and Russbacher. You do not know the purpose nor the binding situation you place upon those ones.

Russbacher, for instance, was already placed in a position of surveillance and basically set-up to keep tabs on the one later to become his wife. Why? Because she, for years, has written for ME (as Aton). These are good confirmations for you of the public--they are dangerous and deadly positions for the people in point. Russbacher, for instance, continues to make flights for "big brother" from his place of imprisonment. Let us all be cautious that we do not play this game of fun and intrigue to the extent of damaging a brother.

As for "Mrs.", just as soon as we cover her name for protection, we will begin to release some of her receiving's but it is far prior to time to do so--for it cannot yet be allowed. God sets up and allows for teams with which to serve in balance and I suggest you involved ones--look carefully at that which you have been given and tend it accordingly.

Piles of inquiries as to "Who is Dharma?"

11/27/91 #1 HATONN

I have piles of inquiries as to "who is Dharma?" I would have had it never revealed simply because she asks only to serve in silence and without recognition--but so many of you already know. The reason that I will simply confirm that Oberli and Dharma are the "Ekkers" is because we cannot speak of the lawsuits and attempts to silence them without referring to them. It is not a secret from the ones who place them under surveillance and perhaps now, security will be increased if more know who they are for there is protection in public acknowledgement and KNOWING. It gets harder and harder to have "accidental attempts on life and property".

As soon as we had put forth information regarding the SPACE-GATE cover-ups, Mr. Cooper rigged an interview with a national radio interviewer out of Las Vegas and told the whole world who Dharma is and exactly where these ones live along with telephone number. Now, do you still believe this man wants to save your nation? This man touts "little grays" and says your government is hostage to the "little gray aliens". No, your government administration and Congress are blackmailed by "little gray men like Shamir of Israel". These are NOT aliens from outer space WHO ARE PLANNED TO REPRESENT THE NEXT MASSIVE THREAT TO YOUR NATION. YOU HAVE THE PLAN ALREADY RAMPANT WITH PRONOUNCEMENT OF THESE HOSTILE ALIENS SHOWING UP, LIKE ON DECEMBER 5th IN THIS "ODD UNIDENTIFIED FLYING OBJECT HEADED FOR YOUR EARTH, ETC".

News Briefs:

Like nails in the coffin

11/27/91 #1 HATONN

One after another the nails are being pounded into the coffin of freedom. Let me just point out a few highlights that you should be noting.

Note that even on the non-news "CNN" it is said that the fighting continues in Croatia and the towns are being totally annihilated. But, they also say, "This or that happened before (or after) the people got into their shelters!" YOU HAVE NO SHELTERS--BUT EVEN IN THE BACKWARD PLACES OF THE SOVIET OUTREACH--THEY DO HAVE SHELTERS!

One of the most terrible butchers known to man, the former leader of the opposition in Cambodia, is now back in "free" Cambodia to take control. This is a BIG SIGN, CHELAS--A VERY BIG SIGN. The power brokers are moving in. They have moved back in with power in Korea and Viet Nam and now Cambodia.

JAPAN

The worst news you could receive this day--happened! Japan's Parliament pronounced coalition and intent to send military manpower and support directly to the United Nations. The members in Parliament swarmed forth to silence the speaker before he could read the document (which made it law) but preparations were already taken and police and armed guards kept them at distance long enough for him to read the document. IF YOU CANNOT SEE WHAT IS COMING DOWN THEN I HAVE NO WAY TO GAIN YOUR ATTENTION--FOR IT IS FLOODING UPON YOU FROM EVERY DIRECTION AND SEGMENT OF LIFE.

TAXES

Ah yes, there is now a push for a tax-cut for "middle America"! They say it will "increase confidence in spending for the holidays and help unemployment!" Most of middle America is already jobless and how spending into horror will help unemployment eludes me. Perhaps you see sunbeams where I cannot?

ECONOMY BETTER?

Better? They just announced yesterday that one of your biggest and most progressive industries, IBM, had laid off 20,000 people, is laying off 20,000 more and an additional 20,000 more early "next" year. I told you months ago that all of the communications center activities of IBM had already been shifted to Europe! Does this sound like better American economy? Boeing already has shifted out of America. I can't even have room here to lay it out for you. How can you recover? You must also remember that if there is no employment, there can be no welfare assistance. The "big boys" plan a lot of misery for you before the ending of this year, 1991.

BONUSES

This tidbit is about as gross as anything I have seen this day. Wall Street Journal, front page: "Goldman Sachs plans to pay its midlevel employees record year-end bonuses, indicating that compensation paid by Wall Street firms will be the MOST in at least four years." HOW SO? WHAT NEW JUNK BONDS, S&L RIP-OFFS, ETC., HAVE THEY BEEN GLEANING? THIS IS ALMOST SICKENING WHEN THE VERY NEXT ITEM IS RELATIVE TO THE "DISMAL HOLIDAY SEASON".

Beloved friends who write

11/27/91 #1 HATONN

We are overflowed with appreciation and love for you precious friends who write and send support and information for confirmation. I wish there was a way in which we could share it all and then, perhaps, you could better see how it is possible that enough people will see and act to change this "thing".

One writes of inability to understand and an overwhelming lack of perceived ability to undertake and accomplish change. This one relates it to hearing Bo Gritz and seeing his thrust and belief that it can be done. "But he proclaims himself a 'warrior' and I am not," the letter continues - -. You only perceive that you are not a warrior—the very fact that you sat and penned a letter to an unseen friend and brother declares otherwise. Your "support", even if only a message of appreciation, is that which can keep the active WARRIORS going. When you reach a level of balance and vision enough to recognize God in your equation--then you shall see the miracles flow like water from the eternal spring.

This does not mean, necessarily, that all will be bright and shiny new and all is turned about with full employment and a return to abundance of material wealth as instant as the coffee you place in a cup and add hot water. It requires time to repair that which has been brought into destruction. The adversary has carefully planned that IT WILL NOT BE EASY FOR YOU! YOU HAVE ALREADY COME UNDER THE SOVIET ZIONIST CONTROL AND YOU SIMPLY DO NOT YET SEE IT.

Back to my statement about correspondence and support; I am dismayed that I cannot share every document--good and bad--for each bears confirmation and support in spite of that which the writer intends. However, hundreds upon hundreds of pages bear Truth and we have no way to get the information to you.

I continue to get priceless information from one I greatly honor and whose work I often share with you. This is Jim Hazel. He, yesterday, gave me permission to share his P.O. Box address with you readers for I get inquiries and contact information regarding this person. He is extremely learned and has great authority on the relationship of the Zionists, Zionist Protocols as integrated into your society, i.e., this day he sends a lengthy writing on the U.S. Postal system and the "Ultimate Mail Fraud". If we can find space, for it is lengthy, we will reprint it--yes, it IS that good!

I am massively indebted to our own "Nora" who has done many reviews of information research such as on THE GENEVA BIBLE, THE JEWISH ENCYCLOPEDIA, the Khazars (Chazars) and dozens more from the research of my own label to that of Sananda. Chelas, your proof is all about you if you would but seek-for it is given unto you that if ye diligently seek, so shall ye "find".

Who are the Khazars?

11/27/91 #1 HATONN

These people had the largest empire in the world for well over three hundred years and yet, almost no-one even has heard of them. These are the ones who came from Nordic, Russ, Mongol lineage. These are the ones who took up Judaism as a religion of choice. They are the most well-recognized vicious warriors and terrorists of your history. Yet somehow all of this has been deliberately taken and squashed from your historical records--that in itself should tell you the Truth of it. These people have moved on through the ensuing time as Zionists and Talmudists--calling and self-labeling themselves "Jews".

Nora has given me a whole list--from research papers--of names by which these Khazars were recognized, and this is only a tiny few: Arabic: "Huzar", Hebrew: "Kuzari, pl. Kuzarim", Chinese: "Koss (a bit like Russian Kosacks)", Turkish: "Gazmak (meaning: to wander)", "Akatars" (name given by historian, Priscus), "Agkazar" (White Khazar), "Qara Kazar" (Black Khazar) [White and Black are NOT "color" designations], "Huns", "Sabir" (Turkish Kazars), "Turks" &/or "Huns", "Cosri-Kuzari"- - etc. It is noted that as the more recent times came into focus--these ones created the label "Jew" in the 1760s (18th Century) and it was made widespread acceptable as a label for these new self-proclaimed Talmudists as delineated from the Torahian Judaists who became known widely as Sephardics. As time has passed the group is recognized as the Ashkenazi Jews. Do not let the ending of the word miss your attention: "nazi".

I have a question for your readers. It is very costly to do research and then publish anything. How many of you would utilize and avail yourselves of the material (at the same prices as the JOURNAL volumes, for that is where the printer and publisher can "break even") if Nora and some of these other researchers would compile this background factual data for you? We have no time nor inclination to do it for the heck of filling up spare time—we HAVE NO TIME, SPARE OR OTHERWISE. However, if demand is great enough--we can begin to arrange to give you back-up material from the extraordinary resources. I work from other information and Dharma does NO RESEARCH AT ALL--I GIVE HER THAT WHICH WE PRINT. MINE IS NOT TO GIVE YOU RESEARCH--MINE IS TO BRING YOU TRUTH AS FAST AS DHARMA CAN TYPE THE SYMBOLS--THE REST IS CONFIRMATION SO THAT YOU CAN LEARN TO TRUST OUR INPUT--NO MORE AND NO LESS. We will, however, begin to make available backup reviews, research data, etc., if you would desire participation. This might also include listings of back-up materials already available and not given the time nor desire for listing in the JOURNALS. This desire would need to be funnelled into America West to my attention and we can consider enlarging publication materials. I will not, however, ask George to bear even one more load of burden and expense for he has given all to this project as have my other immediate workers--you would have to support it or leave it to me to share it in bits as mere mentions. You might find the topics less frightening or shocking if you realized that for decades a subject has been in print and hidden from any media acknowledgement. When the media and education systems were taken into control by the Elite Zionists--you lost your way. History has been rewritten and Truth destroyed so that you would reach today in ignorance and helplessness. So be it.

Another thing which tears me is the inability to share with you the writings of struggling leaders in various places around your globe--who hold strong and long for interaction with you ones who struggle here in America. We hear the most amazing things from South Africa, New Zealand, Australia, Germany, France and all over the globe. I want to share it all--ALL for each feels so "alone" and yet you are NOT alone.

The masses of mankind are rising up as a voice in the wilderness crying to be heard, seen and respected as God-right. In fact, I believe I cannot go further without sharing the letter from South Africa. These ones take our paper and to save postage and expense to the people in S.A. reduce the pages by half the size we publish.

The group in point work without electricity, no running water, wherever they can find a place--in near poverty to effort to "save South Africa" and they are constantly harassed and badgered, threatened and the threats fulfilled. Oh, America, you cannot know that which you have as tools for this job and yet, will you wait too long to regain your command of your nation? THE WORLD AWAITS FOR YOU ARE THE LAST WHO CAN CHANGE IN A MASSIVE WAY--THEN, THE WORLD CAN FOLLOW. YOU, AMERICA, ARE ISRAEL AND YOU ARE THE "CHOSEN"--WILL YOU CONTINUE TO ALLOW THE THIEVES AND DECEITFUL EVIL ADVERSARIES TO TAKE YOUR VERY GOD-GIVEN HERITAGE? WE SHALL SEE!

Save South Africa

QUOTE:

Dear Hatonn, and Everyone Responsible for getting the Fri.1st Nov. Recording to us so promptly.

Thank ALL of you so much for the warning for S.A. contained in the above Recording. I received it in the post for Tues. 12th and immediately rallied together those in a position to assess the contents. It would appear that the Carnegie Foundation first commissioned this feasibility study of invading this country in 1969--or thereabouts, and our Intelligence Services were aware of this dastardly plan. Anyway, it was duly shelved only to resurface again now (which they didn't know about), and for which many-many thanks. The position will be carefully watched...-Especially in the light of the UN Military Airbase now under construction in Botswana (our N. W. neighbors); the fact that our Minister of Foreign Affairs, Pik Botha, having just signed a Shipping Agreement with the USSR which grants 'Fishing Rights' and the use of S.A. Port facilities to the Soviets--which of course means that their fleets have carte-blanche to come and go as they please, and we can bet our bottom dollar that their ships and fishing boats will be bristling with Radar and Listening Device Equipment-- (bear in mind, that we know that Pik is on the Council for Foreign Relations!): and the fact that I right now, Black Radicals are being massively armed by the ANC et al, with Soviet made weapons comprising every-thing from AK 47 Assault Rifles, hand grenades, and rocket-launchers--the estimated cost of which is some 5 Billion US dollars! Obviously something big, and very unpleasant is afoot designed to coerce S.A. into the wishes of the One World Order... the desirability of which was mentioned no less than five times in one speech alone by our 'dear O'l Pik' from Tel Aviv (!) recently on a visit with our equally subservient State President, FW de Klerk, to that country!

...I must tell you, that not everyone to whom I've passed on this information, is exactly 'comfortable' with "my" Source of Intelligence [Hatonn], in fact most of them think I am "mad", But the fact that info I was given concerning the UN Airbase, has borne-out, has quite definitely 'improved my standing', especially since their initial reaction was much the same due to the fact that an Airbase of this nature was first mooted within the UN in 1984/5 only to be shelved as unfeasible--until "the time was ripe", which is right now in order to put added pressure on the country to accept a Black Government of Marxist orientation, etc., etc.--And God Help us, if we don't WHICH, I KNOW HE WILL.

Some years ago, I remember seeing a 'prophecy' suggesting that WW3-- Armageddon, would begin with a war in Southern Africa. At the time I took it with a large pinch of salts as a more stable region in the world of that time, would have been hard to find in spite of Apartheid, and all that. Now I am not quite so sure, and take great comfort in the fact that you, Hatonn, concur (naturally, obviously!) with what Omegon has told me over the years, that eventually the World will pattern their Constitutions on the basis of the 'true freedoms' which we will bring about here in S.A., once the Beast has met his match, and been defeated.... Isn't it interesting, though, that so many within this country, at subconscious levels, seem to KNOW that? Hence our coming together within the last two months to form, "Action-SAVE South Africa", whose letterhead I am using to write this letter in order that you can see our "Declaration of Intent" on the reverse side of P.1. If only the others on the Committee will come into understanding of the ABSOLUTE TRUTH you bring, Hatonn, Sananda, Germain, et al, and get rid of the baggage of the falsehood concerning religious teachings on the Nature of God, "salvation", and yes, rapture; I know this would make for a better working relationship between the great diversity of "faith" among us-which ranges from Evangelistical Christianity, Scientology, Yoga, Muslim and "my own Knowledge", now so wonderfully backed and expanded by YOU. So far, the only cohesive factor, is our common great concern for South Africa, and absolute belief in a common God as Creator, but the other semantics do flare from time to time--esp. from the Evangelistical elements, as you can imagine who keep suggesting that we would be more effective if we divided the Organization into two, which they say would make the whole concept easier to sell to others of their persuasion. At times like these I know God 'zaps' them through me, as the right words are given me which have so far kept them together--the very mention of, Illuminati, being the one word that does the "trick"! After all, each one of us already has his own organization, and ACTSA is the umbrella body designed (by GOD), in order for us to liaise together and pool resources and knowledge of what is happening in order to combat it and bring S.A. out from under the influence of the Beast. I am sure that as GOD makes His presence more and more felt and the ABSOLUTE TRUTH of the status quo as spelt out for both the entire World, and ourselves by ALL you wonderful People: verified, vindicated and KNOWN: these petty semantic differences will fall away, and the task properly done. After all, a mere 5%, once identified, is truly a very small percentage from amongst the entire population of the World to turn around... or get rid of in order for the world to realign itself to the laws of God? ... I agree!

Thank you, Rick Martin, for your note acknowledging receipt of those papers. I find it interesting that Hatonn requested that they be sent to Australia. Wonder why? I can only think that that country must be next on the "chopping block"--which wouldn't surprise me! Meanwhile, it is good that someone in Australia is given some of the truth about the position here in S.A., that country being one of the most virulous in their attack on S.A.! In this regard, it is interesting to note that our early colonizers did not wipe out the indigenous population of this subcontinent, as happened in Australia, N.Z., Canada, and the USA! That is now being done by the Order with AIDS, etc., and of course, THEIR stirring up of a Civil War in this region!

Yes I, too, gathered from the Journals that the U.S. Constitution in its original purity of intent is the best model in the World for S.A. to follow; and I'm sure we will incorporate much from this in the ACTSA document. But thank you for this confirmation.

END OF QUOTING.

I will not print more of the letter for it became a personal discussion with little meaning in content to you readers unfamiliar with the ongoing connection: I will note that much of the remainder dwelt with a document called "11:11". I am asked a lot about this material for it seems that earlier connections with the authors have caused ones to be in great questioning regarding such material. My people herein, i.e., Dharma, etc., have no notion as to the material in any form. I cannot speak of the matter without becoming negative in perception regarding the authors. I do not concur with the writings at any rate. I suggest all of you who are in a quandary simply go within and see if all seems Godly, God sent and/or valid. These are "New Age" people and I am sorry to inform you (who don't realize it) that the New Age Movement as such is a thrust of the New World Order -One World. Be most cautious is my only comment. It is wondrous to "get all the answers" and virtually without doing anything--ABSURD. Do not become blinded by that which is the dream your DESIRE to believe. God expects reason, logic and full attention in alert KNOWING. Truth will stand in every detail into infinity. If there is any error in the output then I suggest you attend it carefully, then, take the Truth and utilize it and put the errors to the side for you have no time to rise up against the "trivia". I say "trivia" for as you move toward Truth and the putting-down of the adversary-more and more distractors of Truth will flow into your path. Usually it will be brought by ones you have learned to respect and with whom you have become most comfortable.

I, Hatonn, confronted A.V. directly at one time and petitioned her to allow Silver Ray reception. I was told He was present. He was not! I will meet any energy form and if a "channel" will not allow such contact--be most careful indeed, chelas, for "something" is not right. I was denounced as some type of third-grade space annoyance. I find it actually pathetic that one who claims to be the ONLY EARTH SPEAKER FOR THE GREAT CREATOR, SILVER RAY-WOULD NOT BE IN THE RECOGNITION OF ATON. You will find the deceiver is not always of the Earth channel but most often it is so. I make no further note of the incident for the facts speak for self. Virginia is a gifted writer and of pure intent. I choose to make no further observation and I must leave each to discernment.

I would note, however, that ones who sought their advice at Earth level and were turned away from the intent under-way at the time have missed the most glorious participation in God's plan--of almost all. Channels and "psychic readers" are often your downfall and you had best pay attention. There is a gross difference in being a self-proclaimed "channel" and simply a receiver/translator of a pulsed communication via frequency wave transmission. You must always take care that you are not placing your POWER in the hands of an Earth being human form for often the word thereby is discredited. You (A. in S.A.), have valid individual input from a most valid and beloved being--I appreciate the connections but I assure you, child, you need us not for information. We are pleased to be in the sharing and you can sometimes hear me better and more clearly for I only bring confirmation. Honor your guide and teacher for therein is your resource. Enjoy the connections and confirmations--for that is the joy of brotherhood and confirmation. You are indeed blessed and this is why there is confusion and discomfort at this "11:11" information. Go with that which you sense is correct for you are now matured in your perceptions and the way will become clear and more easily will you be shown the path. AHO!

Dharma, allow us to close this segment. There is much more I wish to write but we need a bit of rest.

Thank you. Hatonn to clear, please.

Fear, fear, fear

11/25/91 SANANDA

Greetings precious little sister Druthea. I AM SANANDA. The term simply means "One With God" in earned awareness. You may know me as Jesus Christ, Immanuel, Esu, Pale Prophet, and etc.

I AM the one who walked your place some 2000 years past in your counting. I am not returned in the physical at this time. I promised to go and prepare a place for you, each of you of God's children. This I have done with the assistance of His Hosts. The time is coming for my return upon your place to bring you ones of God's home to His places in the higher dimensions than this one you journey upon. This final return will also mark the time My Father sends me for the FINAL confrontation upon this place with the Evil Ones that we may reclaim His Kingdom now possessed by and run by evil.

You ones have lost your way and we of God's Hosts are come to show you the way home. It works not by grace or belief or faith alone. You earn your way into "graduation" through knowledge, awareness and adherence to Cosmic Law, put simply: BALANCE in all transactions and interactions with life.

You as spiritually primitive developing humans are now being tested greatly as to your commitment TO KNOW TRUTH and KNOWINGLY balance within God's Laws. This is called serving THE ONE CREATOR as His Co-creator within Creation. You earn your ability to Co-create, and many of you ones are learning now very quickly how to discern that which is of GOD and that which is the lie of His Adversary.

This is what we bring forth: TRUTH which can be verified. We offer an open door to Spiritual TRUTH which YOU each are unfolding in this time of awakening, this time of seeking and now finding GOD, who has always been WITHIN you. You need walk through the door we open unto you ones so that you may find your verification through your DESIRE TO KNOW and then TAKING THE NECESSARY ACTION TO KNOW, AND THUS CREATE WITH GOD HIS VISION OF PEACE. This is what we mean when we say, "God works WITH you, not FOR you", and "God has already done His part, YOU must now do YOURS."

In order to DO God's will you must KNOW GOD within you and be like unto Him. God only gives and regives love. All of His Creation has been created through this fundamental principle of love giving and regiving. You must give to God so that He can regive to you. The imbalance you exist within at this time has occurred simply because you have forgotten or ignored this basic fundamental principle of God's Nature and the nature of Creation. This law of life in motion is absolute. Do you see, precious ones, you suffer the consequences of defiance of the Laws whether or not you KNOW or you don't KNOW WHY.

"WHY" SEEKS CAUSE

Many of you parents will notice many "Why" questions coming from your children. A child, unless discouraged, will naturally seek to know CAUSE. And every adult who finds any measure of happiness, harmony and success in his/her life has found the Cause of creating harmony (if it truly be so) through giving love, whether or not it was done knowingly or unknowingly.

Many ones petition God and say, "Please give me more money", "Please give me happiness". When in actuality if these "wishes" delude them, it is simply because the one petitioning God to do His part (which He already has done) has NOT done his part in the creation of that which he says he desires.

These ones might better ask God, "Please show me what I MUST KNOW and DO in order to create happiness and abundance in my life".

And even better than that, why not simply say: "Father please show me that which I NEED to know and DO in order to sustain in YOUR service, that I may BE an honorable reflection of YOU in my every thought, word and deed. Not my will, Father, only let THINE will BE DONE." In this particular decree, you are setting aside YOUR altered-ego perception of what YOU "think" you need and are, instead, allowing your Creator within you to show you what you actually do need to know and do to remain in HIS service and BE like unto Him, giving and regiving love.

Then, of course, you must be willing to listen for your answers and direction and then ACT upon what you are given to act upon.

Since I have named this document "Fear, Fear, Fear", I will now explain WHY.

Nearly all humans who exist upon earth Shan at this time have experienced FEAR in some way or another. You ones are FEAR motivated and programmed. FEAR is a product of your physical plane and of the appearance of separation from God. Promoting and inducing Fear is a favored method of control used by the evil adversary. You see no one can MAKE you afraid. YOU CHOOSE TO BE AFRAID AS A RESPONSE. Just as you choose to be pleased as a response. Many religions have produced and developed a god of fear and wrath and punishment. I will tell you that Father/Mother Creator is NONE of these emotions. These belong to His Adversary and are acted out upon the physical dimensions. Those who are very attached to the physical body and places and things are often easy to frighten.

You ones will flounder helplessly, dangling by your emotions until, of course, you find GOD of Light and Love within you and have thus committed to His Will in service. Then and only then will your doubts and fears become obscure memories in the motion picture called "you".

I am speaking of an inner peace which mine scribe has tried to describe as "sitting in the hand of God, secure and more than secure, the fear is gone". And yet she knows that even these words do not completely describe her feeling. She is describing detachment from earth physical emotions. Does that mean she is now totally unemotional and NEVER afraid? NO. It simply means she now knows the difference and knows it is HER choice as to how she will respond in all circumstances. She has become acutely aware of her responsibility of creating her life. And in her decision to serve GOD OF LIGHT AND LOVE, He has helped her recognize her folly of blame, helplessness and separation from God. In other words, her lifeline (God) is secure, strong and solid as SHE has done her part to make it so.

What I have described above is a part of the process of attaining God-Awareness and growing into God-Knowingness. Detachment, both emotional and physical, is a large stepping-stone across the raging river of life in the physical which takes your soul-mind consciousness into the higher light dimensions. Each of you who so choose to "graduate" will in the days ahead (if not already achieved) be tested until you do step upon that stone of detachment and release this illusionary world of duality and limitation and move into the Kingdom of Heaven which is LOVE.

Does this mean you float away into the clouds? Hardly, my precious ones. It simply means you are given MORE responsibility in the reclamation process. You either are or will assist God's Hosts and Me, Sananda, in confronting the evil adversary and reclaiming God's Kingdom here. There is MUCH awakening of the little sleepy lambs to be done. Each of you will be moved, I trust passionately moved, to awaken your brethren and expose the lies of the adversary. You will KNOWINGLY wear the armor of God in His service and you will abide KNOWINGLY within His basic laws of balance. It is really very simple.

We have given you all the tools within THE PHOENIX JOURNALS to DO just that. If you are unsure about the laws and the nature and structure of God and His Universe and need some clear and concise reminders, please read "The Phoenix Operator-Owner Manual" as well as the EIGHT books in "The Pleiades Connection" series. Do your part and read His reminders and, I assure you, God will make sure you get what YOU need to give back love unto Him so that He may regive it to you. So be it.

Thank you, precious Druthea, for your service. Do not concern over your lack of "time" to write for when I need your hands, I will make sure you know it, chela. You do attend me most of the time, in spite of the distractions. I don't need you to write daily at this time for as long as you hear what God tells you, you are fine. Although I do desire that you remain in good practice of receiving. Please listen for my call and all will remain in balance with you.

It is simply this you must consider, little sister; your lessons are the lessons of many and the sharing of same through this method is more valuable than you know. This is not about competition, precious, this is about the salvation of the very souls of God's children and of this beautiful planet. You offer a precious and wondrous example, even though YOU think it not be a worthwhile example. You occasionally simply indulge yourself in self-depreciation, for you KNOW better, my little dove! Even self-depreciation simply reminds you of the human imperfection of this plane. ALL experience this unworthiness, chela. Remember and recognize that YOU choose the feeling!

This time has been very precious. Thank you, my brethren, for hearing the call. Please be gentle with yourselves and one another, and walk in the Peace of which only Our Father can unfold within you. I AM Sananda, Esu, Jesus, Immanuel.

Salu. Salu. Salu.

Who is Hatonn?

Hatonn is: Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn-Aton. I write through a "translator"; communications through pulsed short-wave transmission. This is not "psychic channeling nor hocus-pocus". This is purely "physics" of frequency transmission, receiver termination of transmission and translation of the signal into the English language.

I am Commander of the "Phoenix Project", serving the Command of that ONE whom you refer to as "The Messenger, Christos, God, etc." The "Command Fleet" is from the sector Pleiades from which originated your ancestral lineage. My mission is in preparation for the return of the "God" to reclaim His property. He went forth and has prepared safe passage and "a place" for each of you who would come within His shelter. The choice is individual for force is not of God and you have free-will for all choices.

Our direct commission is to set the records into Truth of content of historical facts for the planet is ending one cycle and beginning a new and wondrous cycle of experience. This gives cause for you of the human species to make changes concurrent with the greater physical changes of the planet. Yours will be a "spiritual change" and may or may not include physical translation. Each will be given choice of direction and translation.

The purpose of these writings and speakings is to allow the Truth to be put forth unto the masses who would wish to receive them. The JOURNALS also serve as historical documentation of this portion of "history" relative to that which has come before--known and unknown--for whatever life forms and generations to follow this manifested experience.

You come against the wall, so to speak, wherein you all but cross the societal point of no return. You will act to reclaim your human rights or you will fall to the Adversary who, by the way--is that one touted to be the "anti-Christ". You are in the time of, and the action of, Armageddon as recognized from prophecy. It makes no difference to me whether or not you are believing of this information. Truth will stand into infinity and God does not send us, the Hosts, to banter or kibitz with you about the facts of the matter--ours is to present the situation as it is, unto you.

Your "enemy" as to "space aliens" are now all landlocked to your orbiting system. YOU HAVE NO ENEMIES AMONG THE BROTHERHOOD IN SPACE (COSMOS). YOU DO HAVE ENEMIES IN YOUR "SPACES" BUT THEY ARE VERY EARTH-ORIENTED AND ORIGINATED. All of this is explained in depth in the writings--this message is for identification of myself and my coworkers who bring information and assistance at this time of evolution.

We bring the unfolding and uncovering of the actions upon your globe so that you can awaken unto your plight--with "reason" and "proof". It is up to you as to what action you take for our commission is to respond to you who have asked input and assistance. We will DO nothing FOR you; we will serve and inform with "HOW TO" as we move along through the maze of incredible deceit. You have NOTHING TO FEAR from us of the you and place blame upon the Cosmic Brotherhood--what will be claimed is a blatant LIE. You are "People of the Lie" and unless you awaken and reclaim your heritage as nations and people--you shall fall--no more and no less.

Massive efforts are put forth to stop our presentations--so be it. We have naught to lose--YOU HAVE EVERYTHING TO LOSE, INCLUDING YOUR SOULS AS WELL AS YOUR LIVES PHYSICAL. My commission is to "inform" you and I shall do so to the best of my allowed abilities for I (we) are not allowed by Cosmic Law to interfere or intervene except in specific and delineated instances which have been covered in lengthy dialogue prior to this.

I serve aboard the Command Ship, Phoenix, and I head the Fleet Command. I am Commander of the United Federation Fleet, Intergalactic Federation Command. I link with other Commands, i.e., the referenced "Ashtar Command", only in time of imminent planetary destruction at which point that Command will be in charge of any evacuation of general nature. Our Command will bring all of God's people into security. I have no responsibility to the "adversary" nor his followers and no evil shall be brought into the places of Lighted God. Evil is a manifestation of "human" and we do NOT allow evil within our orderly God-revering societies. This does not, however, mean that ones who are in deciding will not be taken into a placement Lighted Brotherhood of the Cosmos for we work and act only within the Laws of God and those of The Universal Creation (Natural). Your would-be-"Kings" (rulers of the globe) have heinous plans to injure which can preserve "soul" survival.

I am not here to ask your permission for anything; I care not what any aspect thinks or believes. I have a mission of God and I shall see to it. You may join with me or deny me for it makes not one iota of difference. I do not "sell" anything--not this paper nor any other item. I have a commitment and obligation and I will see to it. You may do that which you will--agree or disagree. I do, however, suggest that all read with an open mind to the "possibilities" herein for you are told by all corners of your intelligence that you are in a traumatic time of change--you might well be advised to look into the possibility of the Truth of this information. I chair the Cosmic Council relative to this Universal Sector and I believe you will and that I am not over-ruled. He who denounces my person had best be carefully looked at through the intent of wisdom for I meet with any man and/or energy who claims my falseness. I find that no one ever, somehow, wishes to participate in that invitation for confrontation--do you not find that strange?

You will find most of the "New Age" groups and speakers fully in alignment with the "New World Order--Global Government". This will be denied for they do not realize the subterfuge and "sucking in" of the innocent and ignorant. I suggest you pay close attention for you are on the brink of losing your world--not just your freedoms. I shall continue to bring to your attention the cover-ups as they occurred and still occur. God has no mysticism nor hidden agenda--God is open and the only "mystery" is that which you simply do not yet understand--that too, He gives unto you openly and freely. There are bility. I pity you who do not and I have great compassion as we pass on into the more compressing times ahead, as you perceive the journey. I offer my hand in love and brotherhood and I give you all that I have and am. Accept or deny my person--but I suggest you look into the possibility that what we bring "might" well be Truth and you will come to understand. To deny the robber, who has just bound and gagged you, is to be a stupid fool. The better part of wisdom is to look, discern and then act. God never limits your investigation into all facets of the Truth--does your "minister"? Does your controlling hierarchy? I suggest you ponder this well.

Yugoslavia:

A critical analysis

BY DR. J. COLEMAN

This monograph is the history of one of the most ugly betrayals of a people striving for freedom and escape from the looming New World Order--One World Government. It is a story about U.S. treachery which parallels anything the traitors in Washington have done since the close of the Second World War. As I have said hundreds of times before, a free people under a conservative government has less to fear from Moscow than they do from Washington, and considerably more to fear from foreign policy makers of the Royal Institute for Foreign Affairs and its bastard offspring, the Council on Foreign Relations.

A short history of the Balkans and Yugoslavia in particular, is necessary for us to understand why the breakaway state of Croatia is fighting for its very life today in 1991. Croatians are an ancient race. One of the oldest Caucasoid skeletal finds after Wurm was uncovered in Yugoslavia. That definitely establishes Croatians as being almost as old as the Irish. Croatians have a long memory and recall that the Bogomils, from whence sprang abortion and homosexuality, flourished in Byzantine Serbia, circa 950 AD, possibly inspired by the Paulicians.

Croatians, always fiercely independent and with a love of liberty akin to the Irish, were conquered by the Franks in 818 AD, revolted and were again subdued. Tomislav became King of Croatia, accepting his crown from the pope. He ruled over Croatia and Montenegro, but the coastal towns remained under Serbian Byzantine control. The Serbs inhabited mountainous areas and were divided into clans or zupans. By the end of the tenth century, the region was divided between Christianity and Eastern Byzantinism.

Between the years 1081-1101 Bodin established a Serbian state in Zeta (Montenegro). Croatia was not part of it and the real separation between Croats and Serbs came when Hungary joined Croatia in a union in 1102. This was a great victory for the Croats and Christianity, and separated the southern Serbs more clearly from them than ever before. Between 1168-1296 the Bogomils, who had spread from Thrace into Serbia were mercilessly routed out and persecuted for their vile anti-Christian customs, forcing them across the frontier with Bosnia.

The years 1196-1223 saw greater action by the Hungarians against the Serbs which forced their ruler Stephan Nemanja to flee to Bulgaria. He later returned with an army of Cumans supplied by the Bulgarian court and established himself in Belgrade and Nish as King of Serbia. Thus from the very beginning, the Croatians asserted their right to independence and wanted no truck with the Serbs. Under Serbian rule, the Bogomils came creeping back, their influence in espousing homosexuality and lesbianism and abortion is a curse upon the world even to this day.

Demonstrating their hatred of the Bogomils, the Croats under Dragutin with the help of the Hungarians seized the Serbian throne of Urosh 1 and deposed him. The intervention of the Black Nobility bankers of Venice considerably altered the position. With their help (money and mercenary troops), the Serbs were able to take Bosnia in 1349. The fall of Bosnia to the Serbs was greatly facilitated by the Bogomils, who saw in Venetian intervention their chance to strike back at the hated Catholic Church that had so vigorously sought to destroy them.

The Hungarians struck back at Venice and in 1358 defeated their forces, but allying itself with Turkey which was controlled by Venetian financial advisors, the Venetian-backed Turks attacked and invaded through southern Serbia. This was the beginning of the Byzantine grip on Serbia. In 1458, thanks to help from the Serbs, Turkey and Venice consolidated their position and in 1459 Serbia became incorporated in the Turkish empire which included Bosnia, Montenegro and Belgrade.

The involvement of Austria and Russia in Serbia is too complicated and too long to be included here, but suffice to say that by 1904, Serbian policy had become strongly anti-Austrian and here was planted the seeds of the First World War. On June 24th, 1914, Prince Alexander was proclaimed regent of his deranged father. The assassination of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria at Sarajevo on June 28th, 1914, by two Serbian Bolshevik Jews was the spark that ignited the powder keg of WWI. Ferdinand was a Catholic Christian who strongly favoured independence for Croatia.

During the war, Austria invaded Serbia and bombarded Belgrade and was forced to withdraw, but after several battles eventually took Belgrade on December 2nd 1914. Treachery by Britain crystalized on May 7th, 1915, when the British government secretly guaranteed Serbia that it would get the coastal areas along the Adriatic and Bosnia. As history shows, the British government has a penchant for giving away territories which it does not own, including Cyprus as an inducement for the Greeks to join the "allies" in the Second World War, and later, the "gift" of Palestine to the Zionists.

During January and February 1916, Colonel House, controller of Woodrow Wilson, went to Europe in the first efforts to save the collapsing British and French armies who were being thrashed by the German military machine. House was acting on orders received from the Committee of 300. As he had no official U.S. government position, House's intervention demonstrates the utter contempt displayed toward American institutions by the secret society overlords, which already then, had the U.S. by the throat.

Unbeknown to the American public, the Eastern Liberal Establishment was preparing a propaganda campaign to get the U.S. involved in the war in Europe, a war Britain and France would lose without U.S. military intervention. House consulted with Sir Edward Grey and the two then drew up the House Memorandum on February 22nd 1916. One of its strangest clauses was a demand that Serbia and Montenegro be given independence. The memorandum was loaded against Germany. House knew it would be rejected, so he covered that eventuality by including a section which read that if the Germans rejected the House-Grey proposals the United States would enter the war on the side of the "allies".

BULLITT, HOUSE, KISSINGER

Here again is illustrated the power of the secret societies that rule America in the form of an upper-level parallel government. Here we have a private citizen, not representing the people of America, and, in open defiance of the U.S. Constitution, negotiating with a foreign power, to wit, Great Britain, and deciding that America would pull British and French chestnuts out of the fire in a war that would cost the lives of hundreds of thousands of the youngest and finest of America's manhood.

We have seen this kind of TREACHERY over and over again: William Bullitt, a private U.S. citizen plotting with Lloyd George to pull the rug out from under the White Russian Armies of Generals Wrangle and Denekin at the gates of Moscow and about to deliver the coup-de-grace to the Bolsheviks; Henry Kissinger plotting with the North Vietnamese which cost in excess of 50,000 young American lives. THE LIST OF SUCH TREASONOUS ACTIVITIES IS ENDLESS. How long are we supposedly free Americans going to continue to suffer the yoke of this secret upper-level parallel government which, like a parasite sucking the life-sap out of the oak tree, is bleeding the United States to death?

In 1915/1916, Americans were absolutely opposed to the U.S. going to war against Germany with whom they had no quarrel. Wilson campaigned for reelection on a platform of peace even while he and House were planning to enter the war. Believing Wilson to be sincere, after he was reelected on November 7, 1916, the German government appealed to the United States to inform Britain and France that it was ready to negotiate peace. THIS OFFER WAS COMPLETELY IGNORED BY HOUSE AND WILSON BECAUSE THEIR BRITISH CONTROLLERS DID NOT WANT PEACE ANYMORE THAN THE BRITISH CONTROLLERS OF GEORGE BUSH WANTED PEACE WITH IRAQ IN 1991.

The British government did not want peace for two reasons: (1) It wanted the Russian military destroyed and Russia exhausted in preparation for the Bolshevik Revolution which was to come. Ending the war through negotiations would not have allowed it to achieve its Russian objective. (2) It wanted Germany DESTROYED, and here again, a negotiated peace would have negated that objective. In an eerie replay of events in 1991, George Bush was ordered by the RIIA not to make peace with President Hussein, because Britain wanted him and the Iraqi nation utterly destroyed.

All of these decisions taken by a foreign power and carried out by subservient and weak unpatriotic American Presidents have thus far cost the United States millions of lives and billions of dollars. (Only 60% of World War I debts owed by the "allies" to the United States was ever repaid.) Weak, unpatriotic, subservient Presidents Wilson, Roosevelt, Eisenhower, Truman, Johnson, Nixon, Carter, Reagan and Bush have all worked to force this nation into wars that were against our best interests. Certainly there is not a shred of evidence that the U.S. benefited from their actions or the wars they supported.

The role played by private citizens like House, Bullitt and Kissinger cannot be overestimated. In 1991 President Bush, on orders from his British controllers, plunged the U.S. into a war in the Gulf, which already has cost our nation billions of dollars and killed almost a million Iraqis who never did the U.S. any harm, and which war threatens to spread like a brush fire before a high wind and eventually engulf all of the Middle East and Europe in a mighty war.

On November 3rd, 1918 Germany was forced to accept defeat, thanks to U.S. military intervention in the war as planned by House, Grey and Wilson. At the instigation of the British government which sponsored the move, a "Yugoslavian" conference was held at Geneva, and a union between Croatia, Slovenia with Serbia and Montenegro was forced upon the Croatian nation. On November 24th, 1918 a proclamation issued by the "allies" announced the United Kingdom of Serbia, Croatia and Slovenia which came into being on December 4th, 1918.

YUGOSLAVIA

British puppet King Peter who was related to Black Guelph Queen Victoria was placed on the throne. Under continuing duress by the British government (controlled by the Venetian relatives of the Queen), Croatia had very reluctantly signed the Pact of Corfu on July 20th, 1917, agreeing to British proposals. The new country of Yugoslavia was supposed to be run by a "democratically elected parliament".

On January 18th, 1919, delegates representing the "victors" of the First World War met at Versailles in France to divide the spoils. Yugoslavia, as a newly created state, faced Italy's Venetian Black Nobility in the person of Vittorio Orlando fronted by Sidney Sonnino, who opposed Austrian claims against Yugoslavia. Sonnino came from a Venetian Jewish banking family and was at one time Italy's minister of finance.

Thus as we see, from the very beginning, there were serious disputes over Yugoslavia. The history of the new state of Yugoslavia, forced upon the Croats by the League of Nations, shows that from the very outset, the Serbians tried to muscle their way to dominance and attempted to establish a central Serbian state. This was met by stout resistance from Croats with the backing of the Catholic Church.

On July 20th, 1917, under tremendous pressure from the League of Nations, the U.S, Italy and Britain, the Pact of Corfu was signed by the Croatian, Slovenian, Serbian and Montenegrin representatives. The Serbians claimed it meant they were free to establish a Serbian dynasty. The Hapsburgs also played a crucial role in selling out Croatian rights.

On November 26th, 1917, the national council at Zagreb, Croatia, proclaimed itself the authoritative body of its people. The Montenegrins held their own national assembly and announced a union with Serbia (excluding Croatia) and declared King Nicholas as their ruler. Nicholas was against a union of Yugoslavian states. On December 4th, 1918, a Kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenians was proclaimed, headed by Prince Alexander. Alexander was not welcomed by the Croats, but outside pressures forced them to reluctantly concede to his rule. Nicholas ruled over an uneasy alliance of the various republics from 1921 to 1934.

On November 11, 1927, Yugoslavia signed a treaty of friendship with France as a counter to Italian claims, but peace lasted less than one year. On June 20th, 1928, Stephen Radich, leader of the Croatian Peasant Party was shot by a Serbian deputy while attending parliament and died on August 8th. The Croatian deputies thereupon withdrew from parliament and set up their own government in Zagreb, proclaiming independence from Belgrade which was controlled by the Serbians. Thus, as far back as 1928, the Croatians began their physical and spiritual struggle to gain their independence and freedom.

On January 25th, 1929, King Alexander (formerly Prince Alexander), as a puppet for Britain, thereupon dissolved all parties and declared Yugoslavia a DICTATORSHIP. On November 9th, 1931 the king allowed farcical elections, naming most of the candidates himself. On November 14th, 1932, the Croat Peasant Party denounced the new regime which was packed with Serbians, and again demanded autonomy following the imprisonment, ordered by the King, of patriot leader Vlado Machek which had occurred one month earlier.

Following seven years of struggle against impossible odds, the Croatians, led by Vlado Machek, succeeded in getting a proper election on August 26th, 1939, which gave the Croatians complete autonomy in all cultural, religious and economic matters and established their capital in Zagreb in a federal Yugoslavian state. Vlado Machek and five of his colleagues were elected to the government with the post of vice-premier going to Machek.

TITO

On March 27th, 1941 Yugoslavia was invaded by Germany ostensibly to protect its Balkan flank. The Serbians who hated Germany united behind a Communist Jew named Joseph Broz Tito who launched a guerrilla campaign against the German Army in defiance of the Geneva Conventions which forbade civilian attacks on military forces.

Tito and his partisans, in concert with British-Venetians, became creatures of Sir Fitzroy MacLean. SIS chief of Balkans operations and confidant of war criminal Winston Churchill. Tito's Chet-niks received arms shipments and considerable help from British intelligence MI6 and SIS as well as having their deeds wildly exaggerated and lauded all over Western newspapers. King Peter 11, a puppet of the British monarchy, fled to London as soon as the Germans invaded Yugoslavia, where he died in exile on December 29th, 1970.

When the Second World War ended in 1945, Yugoslavia was still technically a monarchy although its so-called royal family had taken up residence with their British cousins in London early on in the war, but in actual fact, Yugoslavia was controlled by Tito. Heir to the Serbian throne, Crown Prince Peter, was a cousin of Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II. His son, Crown Prince Alexander, is the queen's godson. Both he and his late father were at all times under the control of British SIS operative Fitzroy MacLean.

As far-fetched as it may sound in this day and age, British oligarchists are seeking to make real trouble for Croatia by restoring the Serbian monarchy. On November 29th, 1945, Crown Prince Peter declared the formation of the Federal People's Republic of Yugoslavia, with a constitution closely resembling that of the Soviet Union. Starting with the execution of General Milhailovich, Tito went after the Croatians with a vengeance, the second of his provocative actions being the imprisonment of Catholic Archbishop Stepinac and Croatian independence leader, for sixteen years at hard labour.

In 1952 the United States government showed its true colours and on orders from the RIIA began to equip Yugoslavia with tanks, planes and artillery and supported the Yugoslavian government in its quarrel with the Vatican because the Pope had utterly refused to recognise the Tito regime. In March 1953, Tito visited Britain and consulted with war criminal Winston Churchill. The outcome was an agreement that Britain would protect Yugoslavia from all aggression. IT WAS A COMPLETE SELLOUT OF THE INTERESTS OF THE NATION OF CROATIA.

AFTER TITO

In the years after the death of Joseph Broz Tito, Yugoslavia maintained its Communist posture and "democracy" took a very poor third place. It seemed as if nothing would ever change. But with the advent of Gorbachev and his U.S.-backed "glasnost", events began to move rapidly in Belgrade and Zagreb. The country began to crack-along ethnic divisions, mainly those between Croats and Serbs. The Croats, for the first time this century began to see a chance of their long-cherished dream of independence becoming a reality. Elections held in Croatia resulted in a big majority vote for Franjo Tudiman, President of the Croatian Party and a separate state for themselves. All across Croatia, the cry "UTASHI!" (Arise) was heard.

The United States, Britain and France saw in this stirring of Croatian hope, a chance to destroy the Croats for once and for all. The hidden hands of MI6 and the CIA began to appear when Vuk Druskovic, head of The Party For Serbian Rebirth, "attempted" to topple Serbian Communist boss Slobodan Milo-sevic. Of course, like the Korean War, the whole thing was a planned episode to cause unrest and further aggravate already chaotic economic conditions. Milosevic was "contained", just as the U.S. "contained" Stalin's aspirations using as its vehicle the Korean War.

Druskovic was billed by the press in London as a charismatic leader. What the British press did not mention was that Druskovic was a monarchist, and it has long been the MIA's intention to use him for the return of King Peter (born in exile in London) to the Serbian throne which, once this is accomplished, will, unite Serbia and put an end to Croatian independence. With this ulterior motive in mind the British press also conveniently decided to ignore Druskovic's strongly anti-Western Byzantine beliefs and unswerving commitment to Socialism.

The Yugoslavian Armed Forces, largely made up of Serbs, next took the unprecedented step of injecting themselves into the political arena, calling for an emergency session of the Office of the Presidency of the Yugoslav Republic. This was done on the orders of Communist Slobodan Milosevic. There is no doubt in my mind that U.S. State Department intelligence knew of this plot long before it was hatched. Sensing that they might be arrested if they went to Belgrade, the Croatian leaders refused to participate.

Thereupon, a well-orchestrated campaign of hate against Croatia and Germany was unleashed by the Western and Yugoslavian news media, which bore all the hallmarks of having been created in London. The old cry of "Fascisti" was heard ad nauseum. The Hrvatska Demokratska Zastupnicka (the Croatian 'national party) and President Franjo Tudiman were all tarred with the same brush.

The Croats, it will be recalled, backed Germany during the First and Second World Wars and, as part of the Austro-German-Hungarian Empire, were determined to defeat Communism. Their crime was that they fought Tito and his illegal Communist partisans. Now in 1990, all sorts of alleged atrocities against the Serbian population in Croatia were being repeated, with false reports of Serbians being forced to flee Croatia for their very lives.

CROATIA AND IRAQ

The fact that none of this was true did not matter in the least. We in the United States should know better than anyone else the power for evil the press has. Didn't our press turn an unknown country and its president into another Nazi Germany and another Hitler in the short space of two weeks?

The vast majority of U.S. citizens who had only a hazy idea of the geographical location of Iraq and an even hazier idea of who President Saddam Hussein was, suddenly began to believe that unless the U.S. stopped him, he would soon be strutting the streets of San Diego. An unprecedented chorus of hate directed at Hussein and the Iraqi people arose from America. Because the same people who planned the anti-Iraq brainwashing campaign planned the anti-Croatian campaign, it was a huge success.
